Severe Earth Temblors Shake Southern California

SANTA MARIA HIT HARDEST BY TREMORS

Windows Smashed, Bricks Knocked from Chimneys And Railroad Ties Kinked

CLOCKS ARE STOPPED

Seismograph at Berkeley Registers Shock as Hard As Santa Barbara Quake

(By United Press)

THE SOUTHERN coast of California was shaken early today by an earth tremor which was registered on the seismograph at the University of California at Berkeley as of severe intensity.

Tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad, between the towns of Honda and Surf, were shifted several inches by the quake.

At Santa Maria, 180 miles north of Los Angeles, the quake broke windows in a bank building, knocked bricks from chimneys and stopped clocks.

San Luis Obispo and Ventura reported no property damage, although the tremor was distinctly felt in those cities. Three separate quakes were reported at San Luis Obispo.

A mild tremor was reported as far north as Salinas and dispatches to the Southern Pacific railroad headquarters in San Francisco also reported a slight disturbance at some points between Bakersfield and Stockton.

Rails Are Kinked
T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific, was on board the south-bound coaster passenger at the time of the quake. He reported that the rails were kinked and the embankment gave way in spots between Honda and Surf.

The daylight and shoreline trains, northbound from Los Angeles, were held at Honda and the coaster was stopped at Surf, while the tracks were being repaired.

The quake was as severe as the disastrous Santa Barbara temblor of 1925, according to Prof. Percy Byerly, seismologist at the University of California.

The record of the seismograph showed the quake started at 5:52 a. m., and continued at intervals for two and one-half hours.

"It is my belief that the quake must have done heavy damage

Claim Lindsey's Biblical Facts Were Bit Mixed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 4.—Dr. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, today charged former juvenile Judge Ben Lindsey, of Denver, misrepresented the Bible when he asserted it endorsed whiskey as a medicinal agent. Shumaker quoted authorities on Biblical interpretation to support his contention that references in the Bible to giving dying and condemned persons spirituous liquor were not applicable to the medicinal whiskey dispute because the spirits were administered as an anesthetic rather than as a medicine.

Judge Henry A. Calvert ordered Mrs. Latcham to charge nothing more to her husband until the suit is settled.

(By United Press)

SONORA, Cal., Nov. 4.—Believed by officers to have been crazed by poison liquor, James Fontana, 35, shot and seriously wounded Deputy Sheriff H. E. Nelson, of Tuolumne county, last night and was wounded himself when he attempted to escape.

Fontana, arrested in a hotel, where he allegedly threatened several persons with a revolver, was brought to the Tuolumne county hospital by Nelson and Constable Edward Hoskins and searched.

The officers found a gun in his pocket and were about to escort him to jail when Fontana, without warning, drew another revolver and fired point blank at Nelson. The bullet entered Nelson's neck and emerged from the left shoulder.

Nelson, badly wounded, emptied his revolver at the fleeing man and brought him down.

Both may recover, hospital attaches said today.

Bickel, president of the United Press, said in an interview with the Nippon Dempo Tsushinsha (Japanese Telegraph News agency) today on his arrival from China.

He urged reduction of the present 15-cent press rate to 10 cents and expressed surprise that the government had not authorized the reduction in its own interests.

Bickel expressed surprise also at the almost complete rebuilding of Tokio since his last visit here, just after the 1923 earthquake and fire.

Thousands Are Homeless In New England

Damage Will Run Into Millions of Dollars, Is Belief

(By United Press)

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Death and destruction lay beneath swirling flood waters of more than a dozen rivers and lakes in four New England states today.

An isolated Vermont, inundated as never before by fall freshets, struggled to recover from perhaps the greatest disaster in its history.

Many sections of Massachusetts and Connecticut were under water. New Hampshire reported some damage.

Phone Lines Useless

Most telephone lines into Vermont were useless and telegraph wires were crippled.

Six persons were known to have perished. Unconfirmed reports indicated the death toll might reach 13. Many were reported missing. Thousands of homeless were reported in Vermont.

National Guardsmen were called out in Vermont and Massachusetts to assist police and firemen.

Reports indicated that one of the hardest hit points in Vermont was Montpelier, the state capital. Boats laden with food and medical supplies were dispatched from Burlington, Vt., to Montpelier this morning.

Rain Continues in Vermont

Torrential rains of the last few days continued in most parts of Vermont.

Rain or snow was the forecast for Vermont and New Hampshire, with falling temperature.

The Dartmouth football team scheduled to play Brown at Providence, R. I., tomorrow was marooned at Hanover, N. H.

A report that the water had attained a depth of more than five feet in Ludlow, Vt., caused fear for the safety of Mrs. John G. Sargent, wife of the attorney general, and her 8-year-old granddaughter, Mary. The attorney general.

LEPER BILL WILL BE KILLED, BELIEF

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 4.—The so-called leper bill, which would gradually abolish the Cullion leprosy colony, will be killed in the insular senate, the United Press was informed today.

Although the house of representatives has approved the bill, it is understood there is not sufficient support to obtain passage in the senate.

The bill, as introduced by Representative Aquino, would permit persons afflicted with leprosy to remain in their homes and be treated by private physicians.

Poorer patients would be treated at San Lazaro hospital or provincial hospitals, thus gradually decreasing the patients at Cullion.

Arrest of Donald, whose dreams of becoming the "Tex Rickard of the West" were shattered last night at Wrigley field when a riot supplanted the scheduled championship bout between Dundee and Ace Hudkins, has been demanded by a committee from the bureau and complaints are being prepared.

The complaint against Donald has been asked on the grounds that the fight was not carried out as advertised and because he violated his ticket contract with 20,000 fans. Dundee and his manager are included in the investigation because of the failure of the champion to put in an appearance at the arena.

Two warrants had been sought

SEVERE QUAKE SHAKES TOWNS OF SOUTHLAND

somewhere in the state," Professor Byerly said. "The disturbance was as severe as the Santa Barbara quake and in approximately the same location."

Santa Barbara reported that one shock was felt there at 5:50 a. m. No damage was reported and the quake was said to be mild.

Chimneys Shaken Down In Santa Maria

SANTA MARIA, Calif., Nov. 4.—Severe earth tremors struck this city early today, shaking down chimneys, cracking the walls of several hotels and breaking the plate glass windows of the First National bank.

The first shock came shortly after 1 a. m., and tremors occurring at intervals included six distinct quakes, the last being recorded at about 7 o'clock. The worst shock occurred at 5:50, when hundreds of persons ran from their homes in scanty attire, seeking safety.

No injuries have been reported and the damage is not believed to be great.

Santa Maria is 75 miles north of Santa Barbara, scene of a disastrous earthquake in 1925. The Santa Maria quake is believed to have resulted from the same mountain fault.

Temblors Are Felt In Southern California

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—An earth tremor, coming in three distinct shocks, visited cities along the Southern California coast early today, from north of San Luis Obispo to points south of Los Angeles.

Damage was reported from Santa Maria, 150 miles north of here, where plate glass windows in the First National bank were shattered, bricks were loosened and fell from several chimneys and clocks were stopped throughout the city.

San Luis Obispo reported that mild quakes were felt in that city at 3:05, 5:30 and 7 o'clock. The heaviest jar was the second, which was reported generally throughout the south. No damage was reported at San Luis Obispo.

At Ventura a pipe line was broken by the temblors, while clocks facing north and south were reported affected in Los Angeles.

Quake As Severe As Santa Barbara Shake

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 4.—An earthquake as severe as the disastrous Santa Barbara temblor of 1925 was recorded early today on the seismograph of the University of California.

Professor Perry Byerly, head of the geology department, said the earthquake was first recorded at 5:52 a. m., and that it continued for two and one-half hours. "My computations show that the center of the disturbance to be as severe as the Santa Barbara quake and in approximately the same location."

REVOKE ARREST WARRANT FOR H. F. SINCLAIR

—one for Sinclair and the other for Day. As Day was available he was hailed before U. S. Commissioner Tamm and held in $25,000 bond. Meanwhile the warrant was issued against Sinclair, as he was in New York.

The warrant application charged employment of detectives to attempt to influence the jurors' actions and decision.

Earlier Chief Justice McCoy, of the District of Columbia supreme court, exempted Day from answering questions asked him by the grand jury and its jury tampering investigation.

Day now awaits further action of the grand jury.

The government alleged it had evidence that a detective's headquarters was maintained in the Wardman Park hotel here; that operatives followed every move of the jurors; that Sinclair had engaged a private chauffeur for mysterious errands during the trial, and that Day had paid this chauffeur.

Burns Is Summoned
Government attorneys announced they had subpoenaed William J. Burns, head of the detective agency whose operatives shadowed the Fall-Sinclair jurors, resulting in a mistrial, and his son, W. Sherman Burns, secretary of the agency.

The subpoenas, sent to New York for service, order Burns to appear here Monday before the grand jury investigating jury tampering charges. The two men were told to bring with them all office records connected with the surveillance of jurymen.

The prosecution, in a sense, invaded the nation's justice department in its hunt for evidence. Burns reports seized here, mentioned six times a justice employee about whom Mark E. Thompson, Fall's personal lawyer, had asked for information.

Thompson was called before the grand jury yesterday. He was questioned about telephone calls he made to Dan R. Jackson, an attorney in the justice department, regarding the employee.

Penalty More Severe
Government attorneys today took the grand jury over other trails that might lead to jury tampering conspiracy indictments. Conviction on this charge carries more severe penalty than Sinclair and Fall faced in the Teapot conspiracy trial itself.

The government today spread wider its net of subpoenas.

Sheldon Clark, official of the Sinclair Refining company, of Chicago, has been sought in Chicago under a grand jury subpoena for three days.

Charles Marchell, a chauffeur for Harry F. Sinclair during the trial, was subpoenaed and was to appear before the grand jury today.

Expressing regret that an even earlier date could not be fixed, Justice Suddens set Monday, January 16, as the date for starting retrial of the Fall-Sinclair case.

Earliest Possible Date
Before the justice's decision, the government had announced it wanted all possible speed and explained that January is the earliest possible time for starting anew.

It was explained subpoenas must be served again on nearly 100 witnesses in points as far distant as France and California.

Moreover it is difficult to run a trial during the holidays and keep jurors under guard as will undoubtedly be done the next time.

Former Senator Atlee Pomerene, government counsel, announced to the court filing of notice on counsel for H. M. Blackmer to appear to show cause why Blackmer, wealthy oil man, now in France, should not be held in contempt of court for refusal to answer a subpoena in the recently collapsed trial of the case.

Blackmer's lawyers are former Gov. Nathan L. Miller, of New York, and George Gordon Battle, also of New York.

Witnesses Are Scattered
Pomerene asserted that witnesses, after appearing in the recent trial, were scattered from Honolulu to France and from Texas to Canada.

Moreover, Owen J. Roberts, prosecution chief, has continuous engagements until January 12, Pomerene said.

George P. Hoover, Harry F. Sinclair's lawyer, said his client was "ready to go to trial any time," and Fall's lawyers made no opposition to the January date.

Moreover, Owen J. Roberts, prosecution chief, has continuous engagements until January 12, Pomerene said.

George P. Hoover, Harry F. Sinclair's lawyer, said his client was "ready to go to trial any time," and Fall's lawyers made no opposition to the January date.

SPLIT WIDENS IN REPUBLICAN 'FARM BATTLE'

ment telling Republicans of Lowden's advantages.

The two statements brought differences between two farm groups more clearly into the open, and indicated that the end of the conflict of opinion is not yet in sight.

Nam Not Mentioned

In his telegram, Nye did not mention Lowden by name but left no doubt as to his views when he said to the farm leaders of South Dakota:

"Let us not overlook the fact that one of our friends, now most prominently mentioned as a candidate, was defeated at the Chicago convention in 1920 because of a scandal raised over the use of his money by his friends in attempting to unduly influence the vote of the Missouri delegation. In which effort, hearings before the committee of privileges and elections disclosed, they were caught red-handed."

Some of Lowden's opponents have made this charge before, but not openly in recent years.

Nye's letter was addressed to C. C. Talbot, Jamestown, N. D., to be used by Talbot at the convention of the Farmers' union, now in session there.

Appeals For Unity
Dickinson's statement appealed for unity of farm forces. He suggested the possibility that Gov. Al Smith, of New York, might be the Democratic nominee and might make a campaign of 1896, and chaos would reign in both parties," he said.

"With Smith carrying two or more large eastern states, where will the Republican party make up the loss?"

"Only in the border states. What candidate can be selected to insure such results in Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Nebraska, New Mexico and Nevada and possibly Indiana? Lowden is the only man who can do the trick."

Dickinson recommended that the farm slogan be "Listen or lose the west."

GEORGE REMUS SAYS HE WILL UNCOVER ALL

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 4.—"Some very high reputations will be damaged when George Remus tells his story," the former millionaire bootlegger declared today in an interview in which he intimated for the first time the testimony he will present in his trial November 14 on charges of murdering his wife Imogene.

Remus stated that his defense would be temporary insanity as a result of an alleged conspiracy between his wife and Franklin P. Dodge, Jr., former department of justice agent.

"George Remus has more at stake than anybody else in this case. George Remus is preparing himself both physically and mentally for this case. George Remus is no longer the bootlegger. It is George Remus the lawyer who will appear in court. George Remus knows law."

"George Remus' mouth will not be closed at the trial. It need not be closed any longer. The statute of limitations has run out. Some very high reputations will be damaged when George Remus tells his story."

"What would you say if I told you that (and he named an Ohio senator) drank some of George Remus' liquor? Another got Remus to supply him liquor for his family when they needed it for medicine."

"George Remus probably could have had high political office for himself for George Remus had much to do with politics."

PASTOR'S WIFE WILL BE NEAR SPOUSE'S CELL

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 4.—Winning what she described as "my greatest struggle," Mrs. Vassie Jordan, one of Winding Gulf, W. Va., has taken a position here as housekeeper in an inn to be near her husband, the Rev. Willis T. Jordan, serving a sentence of 18 months for bigamy. She visits him regularly.

It was Mrs. Vassie Jordan, one of the convicted pastor's alleged three wives, whom Jordan repeatedly referred to during his recent trial as "my true wife." When charged with bigamy, he asserted he was a victim of amnesia and knew nothing about the alleged marital venture.

On her arrival here Mrs. Jordan admitted that "for weeks I did not know whether to come and aid him in his trial or not. The humiliation of his conviction was great," she said, "but finally I decided my marriage vows were worth keeping."

As often as county jail authorities and her work permit Mrs. Jordan visits her husband.

A WORD OF COMFORT

When you know that you are honestly striving to be and to do right, you become firm, strong and irresistible.

It is when you ignore or re-nounce the verdict of your conscience that your spiritual vigor disappears, moral laxity seems excusable and your enthusiasm becomes sluggish, undecided and limp.

Whether or not you welcome the struggle that may be involved, realize that you are on the road to peace and happiness only when you are determined to "fulfill all righteousness."

Joyce reported that a mill and several dwellings were swept away.

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—But, is it art?

This question, often debated by aesthetes, has finally come to the law for solution.

Constantin Brancusi's statue, "The Bird," has landed itself and its owner, Edward Steichen, and such artists as Jacob Epstein, the sculptor; William Henry Fox, director of the British Museum of Art; and Henry McBride, art critic, into the courtroom to decide just how far art can go and not cease being art.

"The Bird" migrated into this country because Edward Steichen, artist photographer, admired it immensely and paid $600 for it in Paris.

Still Convinced
Then, as now, it was his firm conviction that he had acquired a rare objet d'art.

But the custom officials on this prosaic side of the Atlantic disagreed. They looked at the expensive piece of shining brass rail—which seems to have been forcibly pulled at either end so that it slopes gently both ways from a curved middle portion—and saw that it was no more like a bird than like an elephant, but certainly no less.

They could not see that it was art. They would not. They passed it into the country—but in the category of "household utensil" or "hospital supply."

Unbiased observers must confess, however, that it would scarcely fit into the general scheme of the kitchen or hospital any more than it would sit on a bough. It might be some new-fangled, but impractical six-foot-long rolling pin, or serve as a bludgeon if a doctor or nurse had to subdue an obstreperous patient. The custom officials' description was no better than Brancusi's.

Of the money question had not here raised its ugly head. As a work of art "The Bird" would be granted freedom of the port and come as a guest, without duty. As a household utensil or hospital supply, it called for a duty of 40 per cent ad valorem.

So before he could take his cageless bird from the ship to his studio, Steichen was obliged to write a check for some $240 odd dollars. And Steichen contends that his artistic pet, as a household utensil or hospital supply, has no value except as raw material, possibly about $25, and that the duty is exorbitant.

"According to the government's definition of art," says Steichen, "The Bird" is not a work of art. But then neither are any of Michelangelo's statues!

Every one of Michelangelo's statues is out of proportion. His figures are 10 heads high, which as everyone knows, is untrue. But the exaggerated height gives the figures the dignity they need.

"Judged by their definition, (that art must represent some object in nature in two or three dimensions, in its true proportion) the most perfect work of art is one of the plaster feet that chiroplastians use to demonstrate corn and bunion plasters."

Not Interested
"There alone do you achieve perfect representation in true proportion. But art collectors are not rushing around to buy plaster casts of feet."

"No one expects music to be literal. Why must art be? When you get into the realm of abstract art, who is to say when you must stop? I don't say that 'The Bird' looks like a bird to me, although it isn't the money," avers Steichen. "The statue is cheap at $450, and I would pay it gladly. But it is the principle. If 'The Bird' is not art, where is the line to be drawn? Is no abstract and modern art to be allowed in this country? Must we decorate our homes with feet, because they represent the government's idea of perfect art? Or must we bootleg art and bring it into this country as kitchen or hospital supplies?"

Well Represented Here
Brancusi is regarded by the ultra-modernists as one of the greatest sculptors, who has gone further into the abstract than any other. There are a number of his works in this country.

Director Fox, of the Brooklyn museum, testified that he would be proud and pleased to have "The Bird" in the Brooklyn museum. The jury of artists who rushed to Steichen's aid all testified that "The Bird" WAS a bird.

But the customs officials are still to be shown and a further hearing is scheduled. Then, more artists and more plumbers will be called to decide about the statue.

The art world is awaiting the answer.

NATIONAL TRAINING VALUE SEVERE TEST AT GATHERING OF SHAKESPEARE SCHOOL P. T. A. IN HUT

points stressing the value of vocational training were introduced at the meeting of the P. T. A., of the high school and junior college, at the Y hut, last night.

Ability to make a better living for good citizenship," George B. Lee, vocational director said, and he added that the new high school is widening its curriculum to serve the masses better than they are served in the days of a curriculum stressing only formal discipline.

"Vocational training is to fit students for a job," Holmes said. "Under a new system soon to be put in operation, students learning a trade are to spend a week learning at school; the next week they are to fill a regular job down town and be paid every cent they are worth—which will not be much at first. They are to work regular hours.

"Santa Ana business men have been most helpful to the school in the matter of giving the students opportunity for practical experience."

C. E. Barrow, of the machine shop, told the parents present that immigration restrictions, coupled with war casualties, had reduced the number of master workmen in the United States, while E. W. Hull, of the auto mechanics shop, declared that auto repair men are barely making a living. He asserted manufacturers are making large profits.

R. S. Bond, head of the mechanical arts department, justified his department by the presentation of a group of interesting figures.

"Only 42 out of every 100 students graduate from the high school, and only 21 of the graduates will attend college," he declared. "We, therefore, have many students not interested in a college course but who are interested in practical trade training."

Charles Tibbets, in his talk on mill work, said that in his department boys are taught to think and to work out their own individualities.

"Some boys are kept in school through having access to the shops, and later take up college preparatory work when interested in it," Tibbets commented.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. H. Stewart, and coffee and cake were served during the social hour that followed the program of addresses.

HOLLYWOOD

NEW YORK—James Barrie, Harriet Beecher Stowe and Jesse James, notorious Missouri bandit, share the honors in recent openings of motion pictures in New York. While "Quality Street," the Barrie piece, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin," were making world premieres near Broadway, the photoplay "Jesse James" was registering a sell-out every night at the Rialto theater.

"Quality Street" opened at the Embassy theater under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner Tuesday night; "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which is said to have cost $2,000,000 to make, opened at the Central theater Nov. 4. Meantime Chicago was getting its first view of "Wings," Paramount's air thriller, Oct. 30, and "The Patent Leather Kid," another Broadway hit with Dick Barthelmess, was opening in Detroit Oct. 29. Broadway movie fans were pleased with news that Charlie Chaplin had completed "The Circus," his new film, and that a premiere of that picture would be among the early future events.

Detective stories take first rank among those popular with the American movie-going public, according to the results of a questionnaire just checked up by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. To determine the likes of their thousands of movie patrons this company recently completed a nation-wide canvass of public and private libraries, book publishers, book dealers and news companies. The result was a decision to give the movie theaters more detective stories, and "The Thirteenth Hour," hailed as a detective thriller, will be one of the early productions of M-G-M to satisfy this taste.

"Audiences are demanding detective stories more and more," said Tom Browning, who has perhaps directed more detective stories for the movies than any other man. "As a matter of fact this is a healthy trend. The detective story teaches quick perception and trains one unconsciously in observation. In schools they train children to memorize objects at a glance and then to enumerate them, to train observation. The detective story is a painless way to do the same thing and not only children but adults are enjoying it. The late Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, like other famous men, enjoyed and got profit from detective stories."

So far has "Uncle Tom's Cabin" gotten away from the ideas held for it by its author, Harriet Beecher Stowe, that it actually has been presented in the movies. The theater, regarded as sinful back in the Civil War days, was not looked upon as a proper place for presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and if anyone had told that one day a film company would pay $2,000,000 to produce the story on the screen she doubtless would have thought them crazy.

NEW YORK MOVIE NOTES—The artists Guild of New York has awarded the annual blue ribbon for the season's finest motion picture to Fred W. Murnau's first American made movie, "Sunrise," which still is playing to crowded houses at the Times Square theater. Al Jolson's "The Jazz Singer" was the single film enforced recently in the bulletin of the Church and Drama association of which the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, noted preacher, is president.

THREE CASES CONTINUED BY JUDGE ALLEN

Those who hoped for thrills today in the Superior court went away disappointed, for scheduled sentences and arraignments failed to materialize.

Albert Quintana, charged with escaping an officer, will wait another week to hear the outcome of his application for probation, for the hearing scheduled for Superior Judge James L. Allen's court was continued one week. Quintana's chances are believed to be slight owing to the fact that he is alleged to have violated a former probation. He escaped on July 1 while working on a county road gang.

Walter A. Johnson was granted another week before a decision is given on a similar request made following his conviction on a charge of passing a worthless check. He is alleged to have given a $10 check on the First National Bank, of Fullerton, to H. W. Lewis, manager of the J. C. Penney store, at Anaheim, where he purchased goods. His preliminary examination before Justice Halsey Spence, of Anaheim, brought out testimony to the effect that Johnson had no account at the Fullerton bank.

Filing of information against Roy H. Barnett, charged with non-support of a minor child, also was continued in order to give his attorneys time for securing evidence said to be necessary to the defendant's case.

The flow of money into Orange county will have a hard time in offsetting the flood of cash which is leaving it today, for six Pennsylvania and North Carolina people are here with the intention of making a cleanup of $175,000 which they will take away with them as soon as they can get out of the state. C. D. Brown, public administrator, has completed the distribution of the money in equal parts to the heirs of the late Tom Robinson, of Newport Beach.

Southern California's charms will have to do some quick work if the easterners are to be induced to remain here with the money, for they have stated that they will leave as soon as the division is finished. Only the matter of transferring stock, which composed a large part of the estate, remains to be done, according to W. F. Menton, attorney for the heirs.

The estate of the former bathing suit inspector is the largest the public administrator ever has been called upon to handle, it is said, and includes real estate valued at $40,000, in Newport Beach, $110,000 of Richfield oil stock and the balance in Liberty and municipal bonds.

The heirs are A. H. Carrier and R. A. Carrier, Mrs. E. J. Randolph, Mrs. E. E. Dennison, Mrs. C. C. Meriwether, all of Asheville, North Carolina, and Mrs. Ella Carson, of Butler, Pennsylvania.

Pro Bono Class

Pro Bono class-members of the United Presbyterian Sunday school, were entertained last night in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Millen, 510 West Santa Clara avenue, where quantities of dahlias added their charm to the setting.

After general singing, a letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell of the mission field in Abyssinia and then a group of class travelers told of their summer in Florida, New York and told of an Alaskan journey which continued east to New York. Mrs. J. B. Stewart had spent the summer in Florida, New York and Pennsylvania, and Mrs. E. C. Noble had been in the Dakotas, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

A guessing contest and an amusing game of indoor golf were added entertainment features. As a climax to the pleasant evening, Mrs. Millen served refreshments with the assistance of Mrs. Benjamin Heemstra and Mrs. R. R. Smith of the social committee.

In the party were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Millen, Mesdames A. J. Smiley, W. H. Herring, E. C. Noble and A. M. Scott, Messrs. Harvey Allen and Albert Dennis and Messdames J. A. Smiley, T. L. Warren, J. B. Stewart, C. T. Eisele, L. A. Galloway, Benjamin Heemstra, R. R. Smith, William Breckenridge, O. S. Johnston, A. N. Cox, W. P. Read, J. E. Cook, Harry Verberg and little son.

Tokio Considers Licensing Cooks

TOKIO, Nov. 4.—Amazed at some of the fantastic dishes which Tokyo cafes set before their patrons under the heading of "foreign foods" the Japanese capital's police are considering a plan to license the city's 20,000 cooks.

"Our lives to a large extent are entrusted to our cooks," an official of the police food department said, indicating that a police survey has proved that many of the cooks of foreign style food in cafes can't tell a filet mignon from a rump steak, or a truffle from a mushroom.

Hundreds of "foreign food" restaurants have sprung up in Tokyo since the great earthquake and the demand for cooks with a knowledge of European or American cooking has been enormous. The result has been that every scullery boy with even a smattering of information about how to fry ham and eggs or flip a flapjack has launched himself as an expert foreign-style cook. The dishes these amateurs turn out are amazing in their variety and inedibility. Police found pies with crusts like motor tires, salads composed of impossible mixtures of left-overs and desserts composed of little but chemical dyes and glue.

The result, cafe patrons hope, will be a careful licensing and examination system which will lead to better food for Tokyo's tolling millions.

Hawaii Guards Get New Camp

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A camp for training National Guard reserve officers' training corps units and organized reserves of the Hawaiian territory will be established by the war department at Schofield barracks, Hawaii. An announcement today by the war department said the plan approved contemplates the construction of the camp in three phases, the first to include installation of water, sewerage, a lighting system and improved roads; the second kitchen and mess halls, and the final stage headquarters buildings and floors for tents.

Laguna Beach Players Present Program At The Barn

Santa Ana Community Players were themselves entertained at last night's meeting in The Barn, when instead of a group of the Players presenting the usual one-act, all sat back to enjoy the program generously contributed by the Little Arts theater of Laguna Beach.

It was the first meeting since the recent appointment by the governing board, of Arthur Collins as president, a position he has been filling unofficially for some time. In his brief talk the president outlined the plan of the board to delay the opening of the play season until after the holidays. He also announced a meeting of the play-reading group with Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips, 909 South Ross street, for Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. "The Duck" by Ibsen will be read.

It was pointed out by Mr. Collins, that with the organization of the Players under a charter, rules for membership and attendance must be more strictly observed, and that with the beginning of the year, new rules would go into effect.

Mrs. Frederick Schwankowsky of Laguna Beach was then introduced as manager of the little group to give the fantasy, "The Princess of Tomorrow." She explained that the play had been adapted from Louise Saunders' "Figureheads," and that those taking part were Margery Gowan as "The Princess," Frederick Schwankowsky III, as "The Prince," Mrs. Louise Hall Law as "Lady in Waiting," and Wayne Moore as "The Guard."

The prologue was given impressively by Charles Ramsey, one of the first members of the Little Art Theater group. The play was charmingly presented, with the members presenting their parts with the touch of lightness and delicacy so essential to fantasy. The two children, Margery Gowan and Frederick Schwankowsky were especially delightful in their roles, playing with the sincerity and dramatic effect that children unconsciously adopt. Wayne Moore, taking the role of the guard, is the director for the Laguna Beach group.

There was one of the largest crowds of the winter out to enjoy the evening, for which The Barn were autumnal garments of corn stalks, golden squashes, branches of pomegranates and many sprays of autumn leaves. During the social hour which is always a leading feature of the meetings, the board of directors served a supper of chili beans, perfection salad, wafers and hot coffee.

Thanksgiving Month Social Affairs at Country Club

The Thanksgiving month promises to be a delightful one at Santa Ana Country club, and first on the list of social activities for members is the evening of bridge for which the clubhouse will be reserved on Friday, November 11. Prizes donated by the club, will be presented to those making special scores, and punch will be served throughout the evening. An afternoon bridge for women members and their guests will be a feature of Wednesday, November 16, with playing to begin at 2 o'clock. Luncheon will be served in the solarium to those motoring down early. The monthly dance will come on the night of the eighteenth and will be strictly informal, with a small charge for each non-member guest.

As the month draws to a close, it will bring another of the enjoyable Sunday evening concerts planned and presented by Miss Ysabel Brown, concert soprano and radio star. The concert will be from 5 to 7 o'clock and will be free to all members and their guests. F. T. McGilvray, the manager, has asked that those who plan to dine at the clubhouse on that occasion, will telephone him their reservations.

It was announced in "Sparks," the club bulletin, that the carnival held as a mid-October event, had netted the carnival committee $1258. Richard Emison was chairman of this committee.

Host Is Honored At Birthday Surprise

Martin Warren, clerk at the Santa Ana post office, was the surprised honor guest last night at a delightfully planned birthday party and house-warming in his South Birch street home, given for him by Mrs. Warren and members of his department at the post office.

The evening was happily spent in playing ruck which resulted in attractive gifts being awarded Mr. and Mrs. John Clary, holders of high score. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cannon, second high, and Mrs. Cora Bowers, low. Following the presentation of the awards, Mr. Warren was told that he, too, might expect a prize for having played so diligently throughout the evening. Then T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, presented him with a beautiful leather bill fold with keychain to match. Mrs. Warren was assisted in serving delicious refreshments by Mrs. Flake Smith and Mrs. Charles Hurd.

Guests at the affair included Mr. and Mrs. Flake Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. John Clary, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, Miss Louise Stephenson, Mrs. Cora Bowers, Joe Catharina and George Canfield.

Bridge Players Meet In Friendly Homes For Contests

With Mrs. Mandy

Chrysanthemums, dahlias and other richly tinted flowers were used effectively by Mrs. Allen Mandy to make her home an attractive setting for a bridge club meeting of yesterday afternoon.

In the contest which occupied the club members, Mrs. Kenneth Horton took first honors and received a graceful jug for flowers. A similar gift in blue lustre was presented Mrs. Frank Brigante, and a hand-painted plate was won by Mrs. J. L. Robertson.

For serving a two-course tea menu as the afternoon drew to a close, Mrs. Mandy arranged her tables with a yellow motif carried out in flowers and nut cups.

Enjoying her hospitality were Mrs. Frank Brigante, Mrs. A. P. Trawick, Mrs. Blanche Brown, Mrs. Kenneth Horton, Mrs. J. L. Robertson, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Irwin Decker, Mrs. Thomas Gisler, and the Misses Ruth and Anna Robertson.

In Martie Home

When Mrs. John Harte entertained her bridge club one evening this week, in her home at 413 South Broadway, winners in the card contest were Mrs. Rex Magill and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, and their gifts were a silver table mat for first prize, and a hand-painted plate for second.

Mrs. Harte used many ferns and great golden chrysanthemums in brightening her home for her guests, to whom she served a dainty supper as a sequel to the bridge contest. This featured pear salad with wafers and coffee, salted nuts, candies, and pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Club guests were Mrs. Rex Magill, of Orange; Miss Jean Dillen, of Long Beach; Mrs. Elsie Ray, of Long Beach; Mrs. Hattie Bell Wall, and Miss Dorothy Probst, while members present were Miss Helen Heesch, of Long Beach; Mrs. Leavitt Ford, of Garden Grove; Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Mrs. Lawrence Phillips, Mrs. Harold O'Donnell and Miss Gertrude Heesch, of this city.

S. A. Woman's Club

Architecture provided an interesting subject for study and discussion at the last meeting of Santa Ana Woman's club, held with Mrs. E. J. Eaton, 808 1-2 Spurlock street, whose home was brightened with many beautiful flowers for the event.

The usual routine opening was observed and in the brief business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. M. C. Williams, the district convention at Palm Springs was discussed, and Mrs. M. J. Marks named as delegate. Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany opened the program with an unusually interesting paper on architecture of the ancient races. In this she took her hearers back to ancient Greece and Egypt, describing the building feats of those days, and their splendors which still remain to us. Mrs. J. E. Livesey in her paper, came down to modern times, and gave an excellent description of architectural triumphs of today.

In the midst of the lively discussion which followed, came a telephone call from the club's president of last year, Mrs. W. S. Chandler, who had recovered from her serious illness, sufficiently to permit her being taken to the phone in a wheel chair, to call her club members.

The next meeting of the club will be on Indian Welfare with Mrs. Howard Clemens, Mrs. E. C. Wilson and Mrs. C. S. Dunphy to present the program.

Fortieth Wedding Day Is Celebrated in Happy Manner

When Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Young of 422 West Sixth street, yesterday reached the fortieth anniversary of their wedding day, they discovered that their children had planned a happy celebration of the occasion, by assembling a group of close friends as a surprise to them.

The guests assembled outside the home, and entered in a body, to extend their congratulations to the amazed hosts. They bore many handsome gifts which were presented Mr. and Mrs. Young in honor of that wedding day forty years ago, in Duquoin, Ill.

A number of merry games had been planned by the conspirators. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Young, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Eifel Jr., and Miss Marian Young, whose thoughtfulness had also provided many lovely flowers to deck the home. Sharing interest with the program of games, were the many reminiscences of the wedding year of 1887. Mr. and Mrs. Young lingered in Indiana for ten years after their marriage, then sought the balmy clime of California, and have lived in Santa Ana or its vicinity ever since.

A pleasant feature of the anniversary party, was the serving of refreshments by the three daughters, Mrs. E. S. Young, Mrs. R. Eifel and Miss Young.

Enjoying the happy occasion with Mr. and Mrs. Young, were Captain and Mrs. William Kelly of Balboa, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Siefert, of Costa Mesa, and their young sons, James and Billy Siefert, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Halesworth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siefert, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rash and their daughters, the Misses Murrell and Marie Rash, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackburn and son, Howard Blackburn, J. A. ## Well-Known Adages Offer Theme for Literary Work

Old familiar proverbs were chosen as themes for original stories or poems offered by Pegasus club members yesterday afternoon, in response to roll call at their meeting with Mrs. Frank Lansdown, 325 Grant street.

The result was extremely interesting, each having woven some familiar saying into her offering. "Out of sight, out of mind" gave Mrs. Caleb Jackson a foundation for a clever tale, while Mrs. Russell Caldwell discoursed on "A True Circumstance."

Mrs. Lansdown contributed one of her graceful little poems to the program, and Mrs. G. W. Bond wove a story which she called "Proof of the Pudding." Mrs. Fannie Lash chose "Knowledge" as the basis for a well-written article, and Mrs. Earl Morris told of "A Trip to the Other Shore."

"Thomas Learns a New Adage" was the title given her entertaining story by Mrs. Clarence Bond and "Fame" was the choice of Mrs. Charles Bond as title and theme for one of her beautiful poems. Mrs. Charles C. Briscoe crowned the program with a group of charming old-fashioned songs, after which Mrs. Lansdown, true to her English training, served tea and dainty little cakes.

Mrs. Allen Wallace and Mrs. Clara G. Chapman were special guests, while Pegasus members present were Mrs. C. C. Briscoe, Mrs. G. W. Bond, Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mrs. Charles Bond, Mrs. Fannie Lash, Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. Caleb Jackson, Mrs. R. R. Caldwell, Mrs. Clarence Bond and the hostess, Mrs. Lansdown.

GIRL INJURED BY AUTO NOT OUT OF DANGER

While Dorothy Pearce, 4-year-old Huntington Beach girl continued to battle for her life at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, plans were being made to hold an inquest over the body of her little friend, Betty May Rousey, 3, at the Dixon funeral parlors, Huntington Beach, last today.

Both little girls were run down by an automobile driven by R. O. McIntosh, Huntington Beach electrician, while playing in the street in front of their homes at 510 and 511 Ninth street, Wednesday. The Rousey child was killed instantly and the Pearce girl was seriously injured.

The condition of Dorothy today was reported as improving, however, and hospital attendants were of the opinion that she would survive her injuries. She did not suffer a fractured skull as was at first believed.

LONG BEACH MAN IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

John Kiner, of 4210 East Fourth street, Long Beach, was fatally injured at Huntington Beach this morning, when he was on the belt of a car wheel of a Standard Oil company well.

Fellow employees pulled Kiner from the belt after he had gone around the wheel one revolution. He was rushed to the Anaheim hospital, where he died a few hours later.

Kiner was working in the pit of well at the time of the accident. An inquest probably will be held tomorrow by Coroner Charles Brown.

STATE BOARD OF BARBERS PUTS BAN ON PERMANENT SHAVES BY TONSORIALISTS

By CLEM WHITAKER

Staff Correspondent Santa Ana Register
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—A permanent shave, like a permanent wave,

What a boon to mankind 'twould have been?

But alas, 'tis a boot, just think of the root,

And the folia under the skin!

But, you inquire, just what may the folia be?

The folia, gentlemen, is a dense growth of bristles "Down where the stubble begins."

The real "sticking point," says the State Board of Barber Examiners, is the hair folia between the first and second layers of skin.

And unless one conquers this bearded folia, two layers deep, all this talk of permanent shaves is just so much shaving soap, according to C. E. Ryneason, secretary of the barber commission.

The most permanent shave California barbers are permitted to retail under their new law, says Ryneason, is like a permanent wave—it lasts until the hair grows out. In the case of a shave the time is short, varying from six to 24 hours, dependent on your hair's texture.

George Scott, one of the first permanent shave martyrs, got his whiskers removed by a doctor—not a barber, Ryneason points out. And barbers who attempt experiments in permanent hair pulling will quickly be advised to join the medical fraternity, or some other fraternity. At any rate, they'll lose their licenses to shave with the razor.

The anti-permanent shave edict was issued by the state board after Scott, a Los Angeles man, had brought suit for $115,000 against his surgeon-barber, alleging ruination of his complexion.

Permanent shaves would be hard on the barber, as well as the "shave," asserts Ryneason.

If all male Californians had permanent shaves, for instance, the state's barbers would sustain an annual loss in revenue of $40,000,000, or thereabouts. For that's the amount, approximately, that the bewhiskered gentry now leave behind them in barber shops each year to keep that clean-shaven appearance.

The comparatively small number of barbers, as a rule, in beauty parlors, where the operation is performed via electric needle, Ryneason reports. With the electric needle the operator attempts to kill the hair folia between the first and second layers of skin, which, if you're lucky, gives you a permanent shave.

These MOVIE PEOPLE

Press agents for movie comedians are now becoming secret service men. Instead of trying to get as much publicity as possible on the current activities of their respective stars, their job is to keep such actions in the dark.

The reason is that "gags," the backbone of all comedies, are becoming scarce in the cinema factories. As a result, every scene must be closely guarded to prevent it being stolen by some rival company.

I found Harry Langdon working behind closed doors guarded by special police to keep inquisitive persons out—and, in fact, had considerable difficulty in getting to the comedian myself. He and his leading lady, Gladys McConnell, were the only ones on the set besides the necessary technical staff.

Fears Spies

"I have to work this way, just as all comedians making feature length films do," declared Langdon. "The independent and two-reel producers are always on the alert for a good 'gag' which they can steal from a future picture. If we allowed visitors on the set, these companies would have their spies around all of the time."

"As the two-reelers can be made three times as fast as ours, we must be careful or our films would be old before they were released. Other large picture companies have the same difficulties, though not as often as comedians. That's why so many directors have their sets walled in. If they have a particularly good scene, they don't want anyone to know about it until the film is finished."

Difficulty of Previews
Because Hollywood has these persons who are always trying to steal the other fellow's ideas, the really big films often are taken miles away to be previewed and even that is not done until just before the release date. Comedians, particularly, often leave out many of their best "gags" at previews to prevent any chance of them being stolen. And some producers have given up the preview idea entirely, preferring to rely upon their own judgment rather than have parts of their films literally lifted by small competitors.

In the long run, these little fellows are going to prove so detrimental that the larger firms will band together and force them to the wall. As it is they keep down the merit of films through the loss of proper previews.

The marriage mill will grind merrily in the movie colony during the coming season if the trek toward the license bureau at this time is an indication.

Following the elaborate Vilma Banky-Rod La Roque nuptials, Norma Shearer and Irving Thalberg began their marital voyage at a ceremony marked by its simplicity. Helene Costello, daughter of the famous Maurice, has made a trip to the altar, while Louise Fazenda, famed comedienne, and Hal Wallis, director of publicity at Warner Brothers have announced their engagement.

There will be the usual number of divorces of course to offset any heavy trend toward the domestic life.

Billy Dove has created a new waltz that threatens to become a sensation. She calls it "Louisiana." The movements originated while she watched Gilbert Roland dancing

NO DATE SET FOR MOORE'S INQUEST

No time has been set for the inquest over the body of Charles F. Moore, 37, Arlington man, who was fatally injured Wednesday night in an automobile accident at Costa Mesa, Coroner Charles D. Brown announced today.

Brown stated that he was making an investigation which had not been completed and that he may not hold the inquest before tomorrow. The body is at the Smith and Tutthill funeral parlors.

Following the inquest, the body will be taken to Riverside for burial, it was said.

Moore died yesterday morning of a fractured skull, he received when the machine in which he was riding collided with a car driven by J. L. Ainsworth, Costa Mesa.

Says Music Love Is From Stomach

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Human love for music comes from the stomach. Professor A. M. Low, famous English scientist and sound expert, told a United Press correspondent during an exclusive interview on the effects of noises upon the general health and well-being of the human being.

"Unpleasant noises frequently cause seasickness, as evidenced by the fact that some people are 'seasick' in trains or subways. I believe that if all the noises with which we are surrounded in this generation of scientific progress, do not injure our health to an alarming degree, it is because of the continued degeneration of the human race and that we are gradually becoming deaf."

"But this, in my opinion, is very fortunate. Think how frightful it would be if, for instance, men, like birds, had a sense of hearing so acute, that they could actually hear worms come out of their holes in the ground!"

Montana Due For Game With Bears

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 4.—The Montana Grizzlies were to arrive here today for their last conference game of the season Saturday with the California Bears. Montana is an unknown quantity here, although they have already lost three conference games.

In their current production, she tells us.

Movieland Meanderings — Mary Brian on a merry-go-round—Pola Negri carrying stacks of dishes as a movie waitress—Richard Arlen practicing roping for his first Western, "Under the Tonto Rim"—Adolphe Menjou waving a conductor's baton—Noah Beery reading a financial page—William Austin, who plays Englishmen, covertly watching Clive Brook, Englishman who plays Americans—Richard Dix throwing knives in "The Gay Defender"—"Buck," trained film dog, who sports a glass eye, the missing optic having been removed in an encounter with a mountain lion—Ivan Linow, noted wrestler, playing a role in "Baby Mine"—Roy D'Arcy, famous villain, plotting with the heroine as usual—Trixie Friganza and her famous "Bag of Tricks" in "Thanks for the Buggy Ride"—Raymond Hatton sneaking up behind James Hall—Wallace Beery, innocence itself, ready to give Hall a shove.

The combination of animals naturally hostile to each other, in harmonious work before the camera has long been one of the greatest problems facing the men who make motion pictures.

In a single scene of "The Shepherd of the Hills," First National's version of the Harold Bell Wright book, a deer, bear, wolf, dog, raccoon, squirrel and mink worked together in perfect accord. They were all trained animals of course, but their handling required patience on the part of the director, Albert Rogell.

One part in a high school senior play comprises the entire stage career of Charles Rogers, Clara Bow's leading man. Rogers was given the name role in Booth Tarkington's "Clarence" at the Olanthe, Kan., high school, his home town.

Sudden Fame Is Won By Singer

VIENNA, Nov. 4.—Madame Marie Nemeth, an almost unknown singer, has swept herself to fame by her brilliant interpretation of the difficult role in Bellini's almost forgotten "Norma."

Discarded 15 years ago because no singer had the required voice capacity and dramatic power to sing it, this opera, which once enthralled a dead generation, was revived with such signal success that Madame Nemeth was called before the curtain 28 times.

To Madame Nemeth her success was not an unmixt blessing, as it probably will lead the Vienna opera authorities to bring out one by one all the old Italian favorites which have lain dormant for years. The arduous principal roles in these pieces will be her heritage. Madame Nemeth plans to go in a few months to the United States, where she has theatrical and operatic offers.

MEXICANS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Two Mexicans, whose names were not learned, were reported slightly injured at 4:30 p. m. yesterday when the machine in which they were riding, collided with a gravel truck, driven by W. H. Haynes, Garden Grove, at Chapman and Prospect avenues.

Neither were injured badly and were removed to their homes.

CASE AGAINST YOUNG TALBERT IS CONTINUED

A second continuance was granted today by Superior Judge E. J. Marks to Gordon Talbert, 24, charged with driving while intoxicated, when his attorneys, L. A. West and B. Z. McKinney, filed a demurrer. The hearing was re-set for November 12 and it was announced that a ruling on the demurrer will be made before that time.

The original charge against Talbert was that of murder and resulted from an automobile accident last July in which Floyd Covert, 45, met his death when the car driven by Talbert crashed into a tree near Huntington Beach. The pair is supposed to have been drinking and is alleged to have been trying out the car after it had been repaired by Covert.

His widow, Mrs. Hattie Covert, signed the murder complaint after an investigation by the district attorney's office had been completed. A grand jury previously had analyzed the case and recommended the additional study by the district attorney.

Justice Chris. Pann, of Huntington Beach, conducted the preliminary examination on the murder charge and reduced it to that of driving while drunk, pointing out that evidence of intent to kill was lacking.

Talbert appeared in the superior court last Friday, when Judge Marks granted a continuance until today, when the youth was expected to answer to his arraignment.

SAILORS HELD AS JUVENILES BEFORE COURT

Two San Diego sailors, appearing before Superior Judge James L. Allen today to answer a charge of highway robbery, found that the scene of action in their case henceforth will be in the juvenile court. John Dudley Crompton, 18, and William Blythe Oden, 20, said to have beaten over the head a man named Julius Scholz, of Capistrano, following an alleged liquor party in the latter's car several weeks ago, may be given probation, it was indicated, when their case is heard in the juvenile department.

Leroy Warren, probation officer, recommended that the case be heard there. He pointed out that, although naval records show that Crompton was 18 at the time of his enlistment, it has been established that the youth is only 17. His parents are said to have agreed to his enlistment but refused to swear that he was 18, whereupon the lad got into the navy on his own assertion that he was of legal age to join.

Owing to the fact that the crime is said to have been committed jointly by Crompton and Oden, the latter was ordered to accompany the younger boy to the juvenile court for trial. It was pointed out that he is not yet 21, which is believed to have mitigated his situation somewhat.

Warren stated today that if probation is granted to the sailors, he would require as a preliminary that the commanding officer, from San Diego should appear and inform the court what means would be taken to watch them there. He declared that if the boys were ordered to stay within the confines of the naval station unless accompanied by an officer, the effect of the ruling would be felt more keenly than a jail sentence.

ARREST YOUTHS ON KIDNAPING CHARGE

Charged with kidnaping a 15-year-old girl, and bringing her from Terminal, near San Pedro, to Santa Ana, Jose Sarinina, 17, and Henero Morales, 18, were arrested by Santa Ana city officers late yesterday and are being held in the county jail.

The girl has been returned to her home. She is Francisca Avila. The boys are alleged to have taken the girl from school at Terminal, and a search for her had been conducted for the past two days.

Information obtained from relatives of the girl led to the arrests.

Earth Shifts Are Noted In Wyoming

CASPER, Wyo., Nov. 4.—Wyoming scenery is being beautified by a seemingly endless series of earth movements, some of them cataclysmic and violent, and others of a slow and gradual character.

A exploring party has just returned from the scene of some of the more recent shifting of the earth's surface. A rock slide starting on a mountainside 2000 feet above them forced the explorers to make a hasty retreat, but they lived to tell of a moving mountain that had slid into the path of a mountain stream, blocking its waters and paving the way for a formation of a new mountain lake.

That many of the beautiful lakes in the mountain region have been formed in such manner in years gone by is not questioned by geologists who have studied the problem. Just this spring, on May 19, a huge section of a mountain broke loose and slid into Gros Ventre canyon, taking a toll of six lives and doing much damage to low lying ranches.

George Redick headed the group which went into the Fremont lake country to explore the slide that had dammed the waters of Pine creek. He said that natives of the section heard the roar of the slide from as far as eight miles away, but that no damage was caused.

Among the lakes already formed by similar movements of the earth are Gorge lake, Black Ram lake, Faler's lake, Long lake and scores of other little bodies of water which form a chain of beauty through the mountains.

Odd Telepathy Case Recorded

BYDGOSZCZ, Poland, Nov. 4.—All Poland is mystified by the story of one of the queerest cases of alleged mental telepathy on record.

Anthony Foltanski of Bydgoszcz was suddenly awakened by a long and sharp telephone ring at 1 a. m. He recognized the voice of his wife, who was passing the summer with their children in the country. The voice is alleged to have said: "Come at once and take the children. I do not want to see them cry near my dead body."

Foltanski could not obtain any answer to several rapid questions. In view of the fact that there is no telephone on the farm where his wife was, he suspected a crude joke. The telephone operator, however, told him that there was not a single connection with his telephone during the previous hour and added that during the night there are so few telephone connections in Bydgoszcz that she could not be mistaken.

Foltanski went back to bed and was awakened several hours later by his chauffeur, who came from the farm to announce that Mrs. Foltanski was very ill.

SEAL BEACH RECALL FIGHT LATE TODAY TO BE MARKED BY PLEA FOR NO JUDGMENT

At a meeting of the city council of Seal Beach last night, the motion of J. P. Transue to comply with the court order to call an election to vote on the recall of Councilmen Dolley, Wheat and John was lost by a tie vote. The motion was seconded by A. E. Walker.

City Attorney Burr Brown attempted to prevent the vote by explaining that inasmuch as he had not exhausted his legal rights and that the purported stipulation was a mistake on the part of the court, it would not be necessary to take any action on the matter.

Councilman Transue stated that he did not care to get into an argument of the merits of the case, as he was neither a court or an attorney, but that he had been served with an order of court to call the election and that the words were clearly a court order, which, to protect himself, he felt called upon to move that the election be called. When the city attorney attempted to argue further against the matter being put to a vote saying: "I have filed a motion to set aside that judgment," Transue called for the question and insisted upon the vote. Councilmen Walker and Transue voted to comply with the order of the court and Mayor R. E. Dolley and Councilman J. R. John voted against them. Councilman Wheat was absent.

At the conclusion of the vote, City Attorney Burr Brown said: "Motion is lost," whereupon Councilman Transue said: "Will the chair please announce the result of the vote?" Mayor Dolley looked puzzled, and Transue proceeded to explain that he wanted the presiding officer to announce the vote and not the city attorney whom he held was not entitled to conduct the meeting.

At this juncture City Attorney Brown begged Transue's pardon and the mayor announced that the vote was lost.

Transue later explained his insistence upon the chair announcing the vote to be due to the fact that "too frequently," as he worded it "the city attorney and not the mayor appeared to conduct the meetings."

Mayor Dolley interrupted the meeting at one time and called for Chief of Police Johnston to come and take the gavel away from him, saying: "I might be accused of assaulting some one." This was greeted by a giggle from several persons present.

Attorney R. Thompson of Swann and Thompson, was present in behalf of those supporting the recall but he had nothing to say. An expert shorthand reporter was present and took down the exact words of City Attorney Burr Brown in his comments upon the court and the fact that the court had made a mistake concerning his stipulation.

This precaution was taken, it is said because at a previous council meeting comments were said to have been made about court action which would have been valuable to those supporting the recall had it been transcribed exactly as spoken and those supporting the recall are determined to have all facts put up in their court fight.

The bitterness existing between the two factions of the council was exhibited earlier in the meeting when Burr Brown presented a lease for a garage said to have been taken to house the fire truck, and Councilman Transue asked if the fire apparatus was now housed there. When told it was not but would be placed in the garage tomorrow, Transue said: "Well I just wondered if there would be another garage bill."

A plan for a new sewer to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000 exclusive of the land upon which a pumping plant would be located was presented by Brown which Transue objected to because it was planned to hang the sewer line suspended to the bridge across the bay which he held was not feasible. This was deferred until a future meeting when City Engineer Shaw could appear and explain the plans.

Councilman Transue also called attention to a shortage of $1150 in the general funds which lacked that much of meeting the current bills.

It was then voted to borrow $1500 from the water operating fund to cover this shortage in the general fund and take care of current bills.

Students Take Train Study Trips

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 4.—A new method of education is being developed by the Princeton university summer school of geology and natural resources, which has completed its second annual train tour of research and study.

Through the use of a special Pullman car combining the features of classroom, dormitory, dining hall and recreation center, the Princeton geology class has been able to go across Canada from one side to the other, stopping where the rocks themselves could teach the best lessons. During the day an interesting locality was visited and just before dinner the class returned to its traveling home. Dinner was served, a lecture held and a night's rest obtained while the party was en route to another locality, perhaps hundreds of miles away.

Rocks telling their own stories, embedded fossils revealing the life of past ages, contorted strata telling of ancient cataclysms, drugg minerals that to the unpracticed eye disguise precious metals, mines and bills in which metal is being obtained from ore—these field exhibits are more effective than the most adequate lectures and class room illustrations.

At the actual geological formations the authorities who have made intensive studies of the local geology can lecture, advise and lead the field trips. The close contact between the undergraduate students and the professors and experienced geologists develops for the students an appreciation of the methods of geological research.

Similarly, the future probably will find traveling schools a part of the educational systems of many cities and states and most universities.

GIRL GIVEN 5 DAY SENTENCE FOR SPEEDING

Davis Mattix Jr., 19-year-old Hermosa Beach youth, was sentenced to serve five days in the county jail on a speeding charge in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today and when the sentence is served will be taken again to court to face a charge of failure to appear on a speed summons.

He was arrested by F. G. Yoder, state traffic officer, at his home at Hermosa Beach yesterday, and brought here last night. The youth originally was arrested on the Irvine boulevard by State Officer James Cain, who gave him a ticket charging speeding at 55 miles an hour. This was on September 19. He was supposed to have appeared on September 23, but said he forgot where to appear.

Court Notes

Sues on Note

Another promissory note found its way into the Superior court today when the Anaheim National bank took steps to recover $435 from an Alhambra man, George N. Graham. The latter is said to have put up 15 shares of California Grape Land company stock and one automobile as collateral when he gave his note for six months to the bank in June, 1925. It is alleged that he has failed to pay the principal and has over-looked the interest since December, 1925. Because the matter has come to court, the bank is asking a $50 attorney fee.

Brokaw Is Sued

The Biblical expression, choosing one of three, was exemplified today when the Orange County Credit association began action for securing judgment of $327.55 against Leo M. Brokaw, one of a trio said to be the owners of the Fur Rabbit Development association. This company is said to have become indebted to A. G. Flagg for $227.71. Stanley Clem and R. J. Lyon are alleged to have paid their share of the company's debts. Brokaw, therefore, is the one chosen for court action because of his asserted failure to do the same. Flagg is said to have assigned the claim to the plaintiff in the case. Clem and Lyon are declared to have held a note from Brokaw for $219.98, also not paid. It was assigned to the plaintiff, who is bringing action on both notes.

Police News

Three men, charged with being drunk, were arrested here last night and lodged in cells at the Orange county jail. They are: Marvin McGuire, 26; F. E. Walton, 34; and E. L. Geck, 35. All will be given hearings before City Recorder J. F. Talbott today.

Two spot lights were stolen from the machine of L. M. Duke, 1023 East Fourth street, last night, according to a report filed with the city police. The car was parked at Third and Ross streets at the time, it was reported.

An automobile reported stolen by Frank S. Trickey, 917 West Third street, Wednesday night, was recovered last night in Redlands, local police were informed. The car was stolen from a place where it was parked near Third and French streets. Trickey was notified today of the recovery of the machine.

John Stutsman, Los Angeles, charged with distributing advertising about the streets in violation of a city ordinance, was fined $10 in city police court yesterday.

Frank White and E. Eummelen, charged with parking their automobiles in a driveway each were fined $2 in police court yesterday and Bert Hamburger, San Diego, charged with speeding was fined $10.

BILLY EVANS Says

RUTH'S ALL-STAR TEAM
Every year Babe Ruth picks an All-American baseball team. In reality this team is selected by a number of the leading baseball writers and then approved by Ruth.

That the professional ball player has his vain moments as well as the collegian is proved by the way the big league stars look forward to the naming of Ruth's team.

It seems the sports writers were unable to agree on who was the best catcher in the American league. It was all even between Mickey Cochrane of the Athletics, Muddy Ruel of Washington and Luke Sewell of Cleveland. When the lineup finally appeared, ed. Ruel, who had been picked for the 1926 team, was again honored by being awarded the position of catcher. It is said that since the writers were unable to agree, Ruth, himself named Ruel as the best of the trio of stars.

TOO MANY CURVES
It was generally believed by the players that Mickey Cochrane of the Athletics, who had the best year of his career, would be given the preference. I am inclined to think that even Mickey felt that way about it.

On the Philadelphia club are two of the best left-handers in the game, "Lefty" Grove and "Rube" Walberg. Both boast a curve ball that is almost unhittable for a left-hander.

As one would expect, any time Ruth came to the bat, both Walberg and Grove fed him a curveball diet exclusively.

"So the Babe passed you up!" said Joe Dugan of the Yanks, in a joshing way, to Cochrane the last time the two clubs met.

"Yes, and I know why," replied Mickey. "I signaled for too many curve balls any time he came to the bat."

SERVICES FOR CLYDE BISHOP HELD THURSDAY

All Orange county halted a moment yesterday to pay final tribute to Clyde Bishop, noted Santa Ana attorney. The funeral ceremony was one of the most impressive and largely attended ever held in Santa Ana. More than 500 friends and relatives filled the Smith and Tuttle Funeral home and overflowed onto the grounds about the building.

Masons of Orange conducted the ceremony. Frank C. Drumm, judge of the superior court and acting master of the Orange Masonic lodge, was in charge with the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, pastor of the Episcopal church acting as chaplain.

The high esteem in which Mr. Bishop was held by friends and associates, not only Orange county, but throughout the state, was shown in the huge banks of flowers and elaborate offerings to his memory. Brief words of praise for the works of Mr. Bishop were spoken by Judge Drumm and by the Reverend Benton.

Orange Blue Lodge Masons assisted by the Santa Ana Masonic order and escorted by Santa Ana Knights Templars, marched in formal order to carry out the rites of their respective orders for a departed comrade and brother. Scottish Rite Masons also were present in a body.

Robert Brown sang "Crossing the Bar," and "Lead Kindly Light."

Large groups of fraternal and business associates of Mr. Bishop attended his last earthly rites. Newport Beach city officials, the board of directors of the Bank of Italy, Spanish American War Veterans, the Orange County Bar association, court house officials, judges of the superior court, and Knights of Pythias of Tustin were among the organizations which attended the services in a body.

Some of the most elaborate floral displays ever seen in Orange county were sent by the lodges to which Mr. Bishop belonged and by his business associates. Floral tributes from the Orange Masonic lodge, the Santa Ana Odd Fellows, the city of Orange, Orange County Bar association, the Bank of Italy, the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, the city officials of Newport Beach and the Santa Ana Elks lodge, were outstanding among those from business and lodge associates.

Following the services the body was taken to Los Angeles for cremation.

NEW CLUB IS ORGANIZED AT LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Division of the Y. M. C. A. took another forward step last night toward the development of their newly organized dinner club, when they selected a permanent name for the organization. After a great deal of discussion the name or initials "E. C. C." were selected for this club. This name is to be known as the "E. C. C." Young Men's Division of the Y. M. C. A.

Just exactly what the letters or initials stand for is being kept secret by all of the club members and it is necessary to become a member of this peppy organization before information regarding the meaning of the initials will be given out.

Inasmuch as the office of vice president was made vacant because of the fact that Orville Hinegardner, former vice president, left for the East several days ago, not to return for several months. The club members present last evening unanimously elected Ted Jesse as vice president to fill the place of Hinegardner. It was reported by President Mack that the executive committee will meet this week to draw up the formal constitution and by-laws of the organization.

MEXICAN FRIENDLY CENTER IS EXPLOITED AT MEETING OF LIONS CLUB THURSDAY

Declarations made at the meeting of the Lions club yesterday by the Rev. Benito Garcia, pastor in charge of the Mexican Friendly Center here; Harold W. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, and Kenneth Morrison, justice of the peace and chairman of the executive committee of the Friendly Center, served to impress Lions with the possibility of better appreciation of the Mexicans by the white population were the Americans to come into closer contact with the foreigners and learn of their problems and get acquainted with the ideas of the Mexicans.

With Wahlberg serving as program chairman, Mexicans were featured exclusively, vocal numbers being offered by a quartet from the Spanish-American Institute at Gardena, and the address being presented by the Rev. Mr. Garcia. Charles Robinson, a former resident of Santa Ana, is superintendent of the institute and he accompanied the quartet of young men here.

Pointing out that the Friendly Center was organized here two years ago, the Rev. Mr. Garcia explained that it was designed to render Mexicans the same service the Y. M. C. A. renders to white population of this community.

The minister declared the Mexicans an asset to this community and to the county, and emphasized this by pointing out that the white population was dependent in a large degree upon the Mexicans for execution of manual labor on farms. He cited the instance of the closing of the Mexican schools here for a period to permit the children to work in the gathering of walnuts—because the growers needed the help and the Mexicans needed the money they could earn.

Want Fair Chance

"What the Mexicans want is a fair chance to get along," the speaker said, in pointing out that at the Friendly Center Mexican boys were taught carpentry and the girls sewing, while the Center was utilized by adults as a source of advice and information on problems that are strictly their own. He also said that the center represents the foreigners in the courts, in the hospitals and in the schools.

Morrison emphasized the points made by the speaker by presentation of figures showing that 2700 Mexican children are included in the 14,600 boys and girls registered in the elementary schools of the county.

Morrison asserted that the center is an institution that should be financially supported by all the people of this city and not exclusively by churches that have associated themselves for its support. He declared only one-third of the residents of the city are identified fifth churches.

"The Center is endeavoring to establish among the Mexicans the same standards for home life that is maintained by the white people," the justice of the peace said in pointing out to one feature of the work of the institution. He stressed the point that the Mexicans have only three sources of public entertainment—pool halls, one dance hall, and the movies—and declared that public interest in the foreign population here should dictate better support and better avenues for satisfying their craving for entertainment.

Few Cases Now

Commenting on the influence of the Center and other agencies devoting attention to the Mexicans Morrison said that when he first went on the justice bench here he

FATHER TO SON CHECK ARTIST OPERATES HERE

Santa Ana merchants are today warned to be on the lookout for the "Father to Son" check artist who is said to be operating in this section of Southern California.

The "Father to Son" check kiter is a man 28 to 30 years old, five feet seven inches in height, weighs 175 pounds and has dark complexion. He has twice visited Santa Ana, leaving "cold" checks in his wake and is reported to have passed a check in Anaheim this week. Five other checks offered by him were taken in Corona this week, it was reported.

The warning issued today is from the Business Men's association. R. Earl Ruddy secretary-manager.

"His checks can easily be detected as the payee's name is in full and the check is signed with two initials and the same surname as that of the payee," Ruddy said today.

All of the checks he has passed are for $20 with two crosses under the last two ciphers in the figures "20," it is said. Checks on local banks have always been used by him, Ruddy said.

His mode of operation is generally to appear bareheaded, as if he lived in the vicinity, and several times he has told the merchant that "Dad asked me to have the check cashed as we are going on a trip" or "going hunting early in the morning and didn't want to start short of cash."

had two and three Mexican cases before him each week, while now the average is about one case a month. He declared the percentage of Mexicans who defaulted in payment of just debts is less than among the white people.

Wahlberg suggested that possibly the center offered the club an opportunity to perform a real service to the community by pledging moral and financial support and commented on the fact that one of the major activities of Lions International is assistance to underprivileged children and underprivileged people.

P. L. Purinton, Santa Ana's "cowboy" mayor, member of the club, voiced his approval of assistance to the center and urged that cooperation by the club be given serious consideration by the directors.

THE BULL TURNS—AND A MATADOR DIES

Death coming a-hoof to Felix Merino, one of Spain's most celebrated matadors, is pictured in this extraordinary photo from the Madrid arena. It depicts the infuriated animal caught the momentarily unwary toreador on his horns and tossed him into the air. Merino was then fatally trampled and gored.

SEAL BEACH CITY COUNCIL DEFEATS MOTION TO ISSUE ORDER FOR RECALL ELECTION

The Seal Beach recall fight arena shifted back to the Superior court today and indications before the scheduled opening of the hearing at 3 p. m. pointed to another attempt to forestall the calling of an election for the proposed ejection of Mayor R. E. Dolley, with Councilman J. R. John and C. O. Wheat.

With the defendants' case originally based on an alleged technical error in the recall petition, the argument today is expected to revolve around an attempt to show the court that it was mistaken in ordering the city council to hold the election.

Burr Brown, city attorney, was planning to make a motion for setting aside the judgment which resulted in the issuing of a writ of mandamus Monday ordering the election to be held. The attorney filed notice yesterday in which he stated that he would explain today why the council has not complied with the court order of Superior Judge E. J. Marks.

Brown's communication asserted that the grounds for the move are that the judgment was "taken through mistake, inadvertence, surprise and excusable neglect." He pointed out his contention that the court was mistaken and misunderstood him when it recorded the judgment as the result of stipulation of attorneys on both sides.

He did not intend or desire to be prevented from making an appeal from the order of the court, he said.

He gave his version of the final minutes of the hearing at which Judge Marks ordered the writ to be issued and pointed out that he had moved for quashing the proceedings and had filed a demurrer. When his motion was denied and the demurrer overruled, he said, he stated in open court that in order to shorten the time for the appeal and final determination of the action, judgment might be rendered in favor of J. L. Hilliker, the plaintiff, on the motion and the demurrer.

Brown declared that the court misunderstood him and stated to the clerk that it was stipulated in open court that the plaintiff was to have judgment as requested. Accompanying the notice was an affidavit signed by Mayor R. E. Dolley, to the effect that Brown's statements are correct.

The Seal Beach attorney's case hung originally on the contention that the recall petition called the councilmen trustees and that an election in accordance with the petition would be invalidated for the reason that there are no trustees to recall.

SANITARY WAY TO PACK ICE CREAM FOUND

The human hand is in for it again. This time it's the California department of public health. The old crackle barrel has been nailed up long since and the wafers put behind the walls of pasteboard cartons. The wriggling macaroni is no longer allowed to see the light of day.

Now it looks like ice cream is going to undergo the same restraining process. A manufacturer of this popular American invention in Capitola, in Santa Cruz county, has been taken to packing it in pint and quart containers with snappy labels. Of course the bricks long ago grew accustomed to be caged. But the Capitola man means real ice cream, the kind that's dipped out in scoops.

The department of public health is impressed with the new process. It points out that it is almost impossible to fill a paper container at a retail cooler station without getting the fingers in the ice cream. And if the deep metal can in which the cream is kept is not more than half full, the dealer's sleeve is almost certain to rub against the ice cream that sticks to the side of the can.

It is as important that fingers be kept out of ice cream as it is that they be kept out of milk. Milk must be sold in capped bottles but similar provision is not made with regard to the dispensing of ice cream, the health department declares.

A further advantage of the package method is said to be the greater efficiency with which the national dish can be handled. Also the elimination of waste with dust that may find its way into the cream.

None of the disadvantages in the new scheme is listed. But anyone who has watched the process of filling a paper carton and has seen the cream being packed tightly into the corners will wonder if the new method will not result in smaller portions being crowded into the containers. It is pretty well known that a pint in a dealer packed carton is more generous than a pint packed at the factory.

The health department points out that customers will favor the new process because it will do away with the careless handling of a milk product. There may be some disagreement over that. But no law has been enacted against ice cream so far and so no one seems inclined to argue over the matter.

PARIS SLAYER LOSES APPEAL TO HIGH COURT

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Gaston Guyot, millionaire stockbroker and suspected slayer of Marie Beaulieu, was brought today when the supreme court rejected his appeal against the death sentence imposed on him for the murder of his telephone-girl sweetheart, Marie Beaulieu.

Guyot's lawyer immediately took his client's case to Minister of Justice Louis Barthou, charging that several witnesses had revealed errors in their testimony.

Guyot, in December, 1925, met 20-year-old Marie Beaulieu, and fell in love with her.

After several months, the girl demanded that Guyot, a widower, marry her. He refused. Marie threatened to expose their affair to Guyot's daughter.

In midsummer, 1926, a farmer near Paris awakened by the glare of flames reflected on his bedroom wall from a burning haystack.

Farmhands put out the blaze and found the charred body of Marie.

Guyot disappeared, but could not keep silence. First he wrote to the police that he had a perfect alibi in case he was charged with murdering Marie. Then he sent an "anonymous" letter, supposed to be a confession that a taxicab driver had killed the girl. Finally Guyot's father gave him up. Under cross-examination by police, Guyot said he had killed the girl in a fit of rage.

Investigation of Guyot's career led police to suspect that Marie's removal was not his first. His first wife died of a mysterious heart attack. His second died of poison. A preceding sweetheart to Marie disappeared.

GOBLIN PEARLS OMEN OF DEATH

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—The death of Baron Ago von Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, in an airplane accident in Germany, recalls the legend of the part played by a mysterious string of pearls, in the Von Maltzan family history. According to Maroness Louise Reibnitz-Maltzan, the ambassador's aunt, the pearls, now in the possession of the Silesian branch of the family, were presented by a goblin in 1558 to Baroness Eva Regna Maltzan in the ancestral castle at Miltitz, Silesia.

One night, while the baroness was beside the cradle of her first-born, a goblin rose before her and asked her to move the lamp to some other part of the room, explaining that the oil from the lamp was dripping on the bed of his grandchild, which, invisible to human eyes, was directly underneath.

The baroness obligingly met the supernatural visitor's request, and nine days later the goblin reappeared and gave her as a token of appreciation a string of pearls. The string, the goblin assured the baroness, would bring luck to the family as long as the color of the pearls remained unchanged and none of the pearls was mutilated.

"Should the pearls change color, however," the goblin warned, "it means that the head of some branch of the family will die."

The first manifestation of prophecy came in 1616, when Joachim Maltzan, in a quarrel with the family as to the material of which the pearls were made, mutilated one of them. An earthquake followed, accompanied by lightning, killing five persons on the Maltzan estate. The first time a pearl darkened, according to the family records, Baroness Eva's grandfather, master of the fief of Miltitz, died.

TEMPLE THEATER

The last performance of "The Blood Ship," the sea thriller for the past week featured on the bill at the Temple theater, is scheduled for tomorrow. Hobart Bosworth, in a sailor role that is said to be greater than any he has ever portrayed before, is the featured star, along with Jacqueline Logan and Richard Arlen, the latter coming into the forefront through his performance in "Wings," the epic of the air that is to see its opening some time in August in New York city.

"The Blood Ship," adapted from the novel of the same name written by Norman Springer, retains all the genuine tang of the sea. It is the story of a hell ship of the old days in command of a brutal captain. The love interest is sustained by Miss Logan and Mr. Arlen. A thrilling climax brings the spectators to the edge of their seats.

Says Bootlegger Worse Than Bar

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The "corner saloon" was not as injurious to the health of the nation as the "round the corner bootlegger," declares Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, in a statement showing a mounting death rate since the advent of prohibition.

"Prohibition," he said, "has yet to prove its effectiveness in advancing the health of the adult male population."

"Beginning with 1920 there has been a continuous and marked rise in the number of deaths resulting from the use of alcohol. In 1920 the alcoholic mortality rate had reached its minimum. Today it is three times higher than six years ago."

Dr. Dublin declared the "quality of post-war liquor is sufficiently bad and deleterious to the health to make up for the smaller quantity consumed as compared with the saloon days."

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

If you've ever wanted to wring the neck of the lady who gives you wrong numbers or if you've ever felt a desire to punch the individual who rings off in the middle of interesting conversations, come on down to the Yost Broadway theater. "The Telephone Girl" as portrayed by Madge Bellamy in the production, proves to be a winsome little miss who is more to be praised than impaled. In addition to this, she's quite brave and refuses to give a number—although it's in the interest of the plot that this is done.

And talking of plot, "The Telephone Girl" has lots of it. Remember William C. DeMille's play, "The Woman" Elizabeth Meehan based her scenario on DeMille's thriller. It seems that some years before the picture opens there had been an Atlantic City excursion in which two persons had met and separated. Then we switch to election eve and a dinner being given to Matthew Standish, the man who will seemingly become governor. His opponent, Governor Mark Robinson, has discovered the forgotten incident and is endeavoring to use it. The owner of the party's newspaper promises to print the story only if the woman's name can be found.

Fast Trotter In Phoenix Races

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Guy McKinney, 2:01, pride of the Hanover Shoe company farms, Hanover, Pa., winner of the $75,000 Hambleton stakes at Kalamazoo, Mich., and considered one of the fastest trotting stallions of the year, is to trot in the races at the state fair here Nov. 7 to 12.

It is the hope of the owner, L. B. Shepherd, to break the world's four-year-old record, which was established on the track here by W. H. L. McCurtie's famous stallion, Mr. McElwyn, at 1:59 1/4.

Sight Of Woman's Knee Shocks Court

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A staid British court gave spectators the shocks of their lives today when it permitted a woman's knee to be shown to a jury.

A woman plaintiff in a suit for damages was asked by her counsel to exhibit her knee. The judge approved and the plaintiff, Miss Marjorie Rosebeck, promptly lifted her skirt. Miss Beck was suing for damages from a surgeon on the ground that her knee had been severely burnt by a hot water bottle.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinion of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor Register: As a subscriber to the Register since December, 1906, naturally I have learned to classify it as a valued acquaintance, you might say friend, if I had time to do so. For some time past I have used Forum space to oppose or approve various public issues. In a recent article I stated a few facts in a rather too blunt manner, judging from your unqualified disapproval of said article. Considering the fact that I was able to get my "evidence before the jury," I am willing to rest my case. Your leading editorial in last Saturday's paper on "Not More Laws But Better Men" was worthy of considerable thought. Chicago is notorious for open defiance of the law, and without doubt your criticism of "one of the great journals of Chicago" for an apparent neglect to condemn lawlessness was justified. In conclusion you said that the voter was responsible for good or bad officials—or words to that effect. When we consider that a voter as a rule is swayed by the opinions expressed by his local paper, and that paper fails to come out and denounce any incompetent official, how in Sam Hill is he going to know when and where to start cleaning house? Word of mouth disapproval of an incompetent official travels slower than a newspaper, but information gleaned in this manner is not soon forgotten. You were plain in your statement that an official was inclined to avoid criticism. That is about the only way to keep clean politically. If that rule is applicable to Chicago, by the same token it is to Santa Ana and Orange county and the world at large, and when all of the papers of the county will throw fear of bodily and financial injury to one side as some few are doing at this time, this wonderful county will be sitting pretty.

CHAS. F. HAVENS.

WEST COAST-WALKER

A perfect example of modern photoplay comedy construction is now showing at the West Coast-Walker theater, where "Tell It to Sweeney" is being screened. This picture, a comedy of railroad life as it should be, presents a new team of farcure, Chester Conklin and George Bancroft, who seem to be congenially cast as partners in the business of manufacturing chucks.

Cut-and-dried ideas are conspicuously absent from "Tell It to Sweeney." The picture brings one roar after another because of this

ASKS DEED TO PROPERTY SOLD 50 YEARS AGO

A conveyance of property made almost 50 years ago to the trustees of the German Methodist Episcopal church, of Anaheim, came to light today when Gustav Spingath, of that city, filed a petition at the office of the county clerk, requesting that the present trustees be empowered to give him a deed to the land. Spingath claims that the title given him had not been entirely cleared up at the time of the death of the last trustee who participated in the original transfer of the land.

He requests that the court recognize Magnus Roy, Henry Wagner, John Bencke, J. H. Janzen and Albert Nieman as the legal officers. Mrs. Sophia C. Koll is said to have deeded the land to the church in 1882. The property consists of a lot in the Langenberger tract, in Anaheim.

STORY TELLING HOUR PLANNED FOR SATURDAY

Saturday morning, 10:30 o'clock, and all of the children in Santa Ana under eight years of age who are interested in stories of animals and fairies and other subjects discussed in tale and rhyme for young folks' benefit will gather at the junior department of the city library for the first of a series of story telling hours to be conducted by Miss Mary Bowyer.

At this time Miss Bowyer will tell the stories of "The Tired Trolley Car" and "The Owl's Answer to Tommy." Little poems will be "Worms" and "The Turtle."

Most of the time Saturday morning, according to Miss Bowyer, will be spent in "getting acquainted."

Last year's story hour proved so popular that it was impossible to care for all of the children who wished to attend the hour each Saturday. For this reason it has been arranged for all children under eight to attend one Saturday and those over eight to attend the following Saturday. In this way each group will have two story hours a month. No story hours will be held on the fifth Saturdays.

Connected with the story telling, Miss Bowyer has arranged for hand work to interest the children.

L. A. MAN GIVEN RELEASE WHEN BAIL IS MADE

P. W. Sullivan, 32, 1223 Court street, Los Angeles, arrested yesterday after officers found an overturned booze car, near Tustin, and who was held on a charge of possession of liquor, in connection with the car and its contents of 23 bottles of liquor, was arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison yesterday afternoon.

Bail was fixed at $1000, which the defendant made, and the preliminary examination set for November 10, at 9 a. m.

Officers said they found Sullivan coming from an orange grove with mud on his hands when they arrived and that a short time later they found 23 quarts of liquor among the orange trees.

Much of the liquor the car held was taken away by passing motorists, it was said.

Sullivan is said to have told authorities that he was merely riding with the owner of the liquor and that he had no part in the ownership of the whiskey.

STANDARDIZED SCHEDULE OF TRAINING FOR ELEMENTARY YOUNGSTERS PLANNED HERE

Putting physical education in Santa Ana's schools on a plane that is calculated to raise the efficiency of instruction throughout the system, a plan is now in operation whereby a standardized schedule of training for 2700 elementary youngsters will give them an all around type of physical development which equals anything in the United States.

Walter L. Scott, director of physical education for the schools of this city, announced the inauguration of the scheme today following a meeting of principals and coaches Tuesday at which the idea gained hearty endorsement.

The new plan is the result of research covering a year and a half and incorporates the best features of similar schedules from various points in America. Scott said heretofore there has not been a comprehensive course of study in uniform operation in the city schools which compares to the one now in use. Through the operation of the system first grade students will participate in an athletic and physical development program which leads by logical steps through the eight years of elementary school life, at the end of which they have gained a thorough training which has prepared them for the next step into major athletics.

Scott explained that the aim of the training will be to make the body serve the mind of the individual more effectively and to support the objects of general education in respect to the worthy use of leisure time and the development of health. He declared that the good citizenship phase of physical activity will not be subordinated to the physical development idea.

One of the most important features of the system will be what are termed as motor ability tests and exercises which are designed to develop control over every body muscle. Many people of the older generation, he declared, are not able to make their hands or feet do exactly as they wish in the movements requiring the more dexterous use of the muscles and the new training is calculated to improve this type of body control.

Another aspect of the scheme will be the discovery of possible defects or weaknesses which are to be overcome. Over-emphasis of certain activities has resulted in the past in overlooking these needs which are now to be taken care of in such a manner that the body is to develop more uniformly.

Oakland is credited with the first use of such a plan when it was adopted in 1922 following the report of a committee headed by J. B. Nash, head of physical education in the schools there. The system was revised in 1926 incorporating suggestions from instructors who had used it.

A brief outline of the activities included in the schedule, lists tag games and relays, self testing activities, organized major athletics in modified form, rhythmic activities, singing games and exercises set to music, posture training, motor ability tests, corrective gym work, with play periods on apparatus.

France Expands Her Air System

LONDON, Nov. 4.—British aviation experts are watching with envious eyes the expansion of commercial aviation in France.

Following the example of Germany, France is planning an extensive system of internal air transport in addition to her international air lines. The most important of the new lines. The most important of the new lines will join Toulouse with Bordeaux, Nantes and Cherbourg with connection will be made with the British Imperial Airways flying boat line between Cherbourg and Southampton.

Toulouse is also the terminus for the Latecoere lines which run through Spain and down the West African coast to Dakar.

50 Persons Tried By Russian Body

POLICE SEARCH FOR TWO GIRLS WHO RAN AWAY

Santa Ana police today were searching for two girls who are reported to have run away from their homes in Colton and who may be in Santa Ana.

The girls are Lovetta McGrail, 14, and Lillie Kingery, 16. The McGrail girl is described as being five feet, three inches in height, weighs 110 pounds, has hazel eyes, light bobbed hair and was wearing a grey suit, black velvet hat, flesh colored stockings and tan slippers.

The Kingery girl is five feet, three inches in height, weighs 120 pounds, has brown eyes, black bobbed hair and was wearing a brown coat with fur collar, flesh colored stockings and low patent leather shoes.

Chief of Police E. S. Deiss, Corona, asks Santa Ana police to aid in the search for the girls.

RELEASE L. A. MAN IN JUSTICE COURT

W. L. Garrett, arrested in Los Angeles on an embezzlement charge was released from custody on his own recognizance yesterday by Justice of the Peace Kenneth G. Morrison. The charge is a misdemeanor.

He will be given a trial in Justice Morrison's court at 10 a. m., November 10.

CLERK PETITIONED TO ANNUL MARRIAGE

Alleging that their son, Norol O. Evans, married Agnes E. Evans without their consent when he was but 13 years of age, L. W. Evans and Mrs. Rosa B. Evans today filed a petition with the county clerk requesting the annulment of the union.

The marriage is said to have occurred October 19, 1925, and it is alleged that the couple have since separated. A child, born April 28, 1926, is mentioned in the document but no request is entered regarding its custody.

Mother, Daughter Recovering From Fast Of 21 Days

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—A diet of diluted orange juice is being fed to Mrs. L. C. Case and her 12-year-old daughter, Margaret, they having fasted 21 days because L. C. Case, the father and husband, had left home.

Police and humane officers entered their Denver home yesterday and removed them to a hospital, where Mrs. Case told of the voluntary fast.

"We decided not to eat until my husband was found," Mrs. Case said.

Chase disappeared three weeks ago, after his wife filed a divorce suit.

Asked why her daughter was not in school, the woman said the girl also had decided not to eat and she therefore was two weeks to go to school.

Mrs. Chase told W. B. Wheeler, of the humane society, that they had some money but had "just decided" not to eat.

QUICK SILVER NOW MINED IN ORANGE COUNTY

Quicksilver mines on the Brown ranch at Red Hill abandoned in 1890 today are being successfully operated by Charles McWaters, it was revealed here today by Felton Browning.

McWaters is mining ore each day worth $100, it was stated by Browning, and preparations are being made for increasing the production.

Two shafts and two drifts were put in in 1890 by men who operated at the point, but who failed because the price of quicksilver at that time did not justify the operation. The product was selling at that time at around $20 to $40 a flask, a flask containing 76 pounds and 1 ounce, while the price today is around $124 a flask.

The ore being produced now is being developed from one of the old shafts, and work is in progress in sinking a new shaft. Six or seven men are working on the property.

OFFERS REWARD FOR RECOVERY OF BODY

J. C. Martin, of Artesia, friend and neighbor of John M. Sousa, who was washed from the rocks while fishing and was drowned at Emerald bay, Laguna, Wednesday, today appealed to the city marshal, Albe Johnson, to offer a reward of $150 for the recovery of the body of Sousa.

Martin also today hired Tony Derkum, at Laguna, to search the waters there in a glass bottom boat.

Martin pointed out that he was a friend of Sousa and that he was financing the search for the body because Sousa's relatives were not able to conduct the search. Sousa was a Portuguese and was a dairyman at Hynes, near Artesia.

Simple Home Recipe For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this good advice.

Artificial digestants and starvation diets are seldom needed. Within reason, most folks may eat what they like, if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the power of digestion. And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a little Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless form of Magnesia that swiftly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A few days' trial of Bismarck Magnesia (powder or tablets), which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that fully 90% of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Try Bismarck Magnesia today!—Adv.

AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC SIGNALS WILL BE IN OPERATION HERE ON SATURDAY COLLIER SAYS

At 10 a. m., tomorrow, Santa Ana will step into the metropolitan class of cities who have adopted automatic traffic signals for control of traffic in the business district.

Installation of the Acme signals at Fourth and Main and Fourth and Broadway had been completed today, and they will be placed in operation at 10 o'clock, tomorrow, E. B. Collier, city manager, and Claude Rogers, chief of police, announced today.

The officials have not yet determined the hours of the day the signals will be operated and a schedule will be developed after observations are made for a few days.

It was pointed out that there are certain hours in the day when control would impede traffic on the two intersections, and that the best policy would be to let motorists and pedestrians solve their own problems with reference to negotiating the intersections.

It is possible that when the signals are in operation, they will be set to change signals every 17 seconds, as this seems to be a period that gives most general satisfaction in other communities where the stop and go signs are in use. The manager and police chief emphasized the point that pedestrians must observe the signals, must follow pedestrian lanes and move with the signals.

"Success of the operation of the system will depend upon the full co-operation of the motoring and pedestrian public," Collier said, in impressing the fact that control will be entirely with the automatic device. He announced that temporarily officers will be placed on the intersections to assist the public in getting acquainted with their operation. A period of five or six seconds will elapse between the warning bell and the change of the signal arms. This will give motorists time to prepare for moving their cars when the signals flash.

Otto Schultz, assistant general manager of the Acme Signal Traffic company, will be in the city for a few days making observations and assisting the city officials in determining the proper hours for operation, and the period of time that should elapse between changes of traffic direction. Harry Spaw, traffic consultant for the company, was in the city yesterday co-operating with the officials in try-outs of the system.

Auto Necking Is Held Road Evil

DENVER, Colo., That staid body of sober technicians, the American Association of Highway officials, has added "necking" by youthful lovers to its list of highway problems yet to be worked out.

"Wild parties," "one armed drivers," declared Frank F. Rogers, past president of the association and Michigan state highway commissioner, are among the most serious hazards facing highway engineers. Rogers attended the annual convention of the association here.

"No matter how hard we work to remove the dangers of motoring," he said, "we cannot compete with the 'neckers' whose thoughtlessness and carelessness does much to fill hospitals with dead and maimed."

"America can spend millions on highways and still there will be accidents—just because of these one armed drivers."

India Conspiracy Details Uncovered

CALCUTTA, India, Nov. 4.—Documents which officials believe reveal widespread ramifications of a revolutionary conspiracy have been seized by the police in searches of a number of houses in Calcutta and northeast Bengal. The searches were carried out at the request of the Bihar police after the discovery of two pistols with ammunition in the possession of a Bengal youth at Deoghar Bihar last month. Certain cipher alphabets were found which were decoded yielding the names of a number of persons living at the addresses searched today. No arrests were reported.

POLICE ASKED TO FIND LOCAL MAN

Search for Albert Zenner, 24, 1009 Bishop street, was instigated today by Santa Ana police, following a report that he had not returned to his home since Wednesday and with the finding of his abandoned automobile, parked at Third and French streets.

The first report that Zenner was missing was made to police yesterday and a check today revealed that nothing had been heard from him, it was said.

Zenner is five feet, seven inches in height, and weighs 140 pounds. When last seen he was wearing a gray hat, gray coat and brown corduroy trousers. He also was wearing high top boots.

2-Year Sentence For Dog Theft

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—A circuit court jury convicted Joseph S. Plant, 40, of grand larceny in theft of a chow dog and fixed his punishment at two years in state prison.

Plant, the St. Louis representative of a New York picture frame company sold the dog last year to William J. Wolf, automobile dealer for $125, the initial payment on an automobile. Several days later, according to testimony, Plant called at the Wolf home and got the dog on pretext he was going to give it a bath. He and the dog disappeared and Plant later was arrested in Pittsburgh.

Plant's defense was he intended to return the dog to the Wolf home but the animal escaped.

DONS IN CRUCIAL TEST HERE TOMORROW

Riot Follows Dundee's Refusal To Box Hudkins

DONALD UNABLE TO POST JOE'S
BIG GUARANTEE

Police Have Difficulty in Quelling Angry Fans as Bout Delayed, Canceled

By RON WAGONER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—A maze of financial entanglements, scores of sore heads and bruised muscles, and a debris-covered Wrigley field, today stood testimony to a wild riot which this city witnessed last night instead of a world's welterweight championship fight between Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins.

The battle which some 20,000 fans had gathered to witness was called off after two preliminaries because Promoter Dick Donald could not raise a $60,000 guarantee to pay Dundee the contract price of his title risk.

An air of uncertainty, which hung over the great outdoor arena at Wrigley field, changing into bursts of displeasure at long delay which indicated "something was wrong" burst into sudden flame when it became unofficially known that Dundee would not show.

After two curtain-raisers the fans "up high" began to call for Dundee and Hudkins and the appearance of "Wildcat Ace" sent hopes high and cheers through the stadium.

Confides To Press
Clyde Hudkins, his brother-managed, however, confided to press row that Dundee had not arrived at the field, but that the champion's manager, Max Waxman, with $37,500 of his guarantee in pocket was debating vigorously with Donald and the California Athletic commission for the remainder. Until he had it, was the word, his Baltimore Italian would remain at his hotel.

Hudkins interpreted the non-appearance to partial loss on the part of the Dundee contingent for the "Wildcat" but it was the opinion of newspaper row that the matter was purely financial although Dundee knew he had a tough job for the evening.

After bouncing around the ring to avoid the slight evening chill, Hudkins made a few bows and followed by his handlers went back to his warm dressing room. Shortly later he reappeared in the howling stage, allowed Tom Kennedy, former heavyweight celebrity and now a movie actor, to make a speech. Tom was serving as Hudkins' second.

Ace Claims Title
"Ace Hudkins trained hard and long for this fight," Tom said. "He made the weight and is ready for Dundee, who won't show. Therefore Ace Hudkins claims the world's welterweight championship."

Flashlights snapped, the crowd cheered half-heartedly and then chairs began to fly—not in the direction of Hudkins and the ring but everywhere on general principles.

Ragged urchins started an impromptu parade to the ring as Hudkins vacated, clambering over the backs of writers at ringside. The newspapermen temporarily abandoned all thoughts but protecting their typewriters while telegraph operators concentrated on saving telegraph instruments which were sending out details of the growing disorder.

Uniformed policemen made a sudden appearance and with drawn night sticks toppled the invaders from the arena. The galleries took up a "boo" chorus and then the fun began in earnest.

Fashionably dressed women and other celebrities in the front rows made hasty exits as the mob surged to the millionaire and his party, Lieutenant Governor Burton Fitts of California, Hollywood studio contingents headed by Louis Stone and George K. Arthur, pushed their way to exits with difficulty.

Several women fainted and were carried from the ringside. On the outskirts, the crowd began throwing chairs and it was then that some twelve policemen and many civilians resorted to minor hurts. No serious casualties were reported. Newspaper photographers added spice to the general scene by popping flashes, while movie cameras on pedestals took action shots of a mob scene that would get by at any Hollywood lot.

Objects started flying to the ring where police were struggling with as many as could gain the raised structure. Empty liquor bottles, pieces of chairs and even a gray and frightened cat were hurled from the pit.

From the bluecoated officers charged hither any yon, the ring lights snapped on and the crowd quieted temporarily for an official announcement.

Frank Kerwin, speaking for Donald, said the athletic commission had decided to rule "no contest" and that the customers' money would be restored. Dundee, he said, would not appear because he had not received his guarantee.

2000 Mill Around Office
The crowd then began filling from

RICKARD OF WEST?

Dick Donald, promoter of the Dundee-Hudkins fiasco last night, used to be termed the "Rickard of the West" by his exploitation engineers.

CARDS. HUSKIES TO BATTLE ON SLOPPY FIELD

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—

Washington and Stanford football teams will clash here tomorrow afternoon in one of the most important of the Pacific Coast conference series, on a wet, slow field, it was apparent today as rain continued to fall and weather forecasts promised no let-up for at least 24 hours.

As a result, the 10 to 8 odds which have been quoted on the Cardinals team changed today to 10 to 9, bettors figuring that the wet field gives the Huskies more of a chance to win.

Coach "Pop" Warner and his team arrived here last night and will work out in the stadium this afternoon. Coach Bagshaw will give his team some light drill, but will not push the men.

With the field in the condition that it is, it is apparent that victory tomorrow will depend on the forward lines of the two teams. Just how effective the fast backfield will be is a problem.

The Cardinals will have but one day to become accustomed to the field while the Huskies have been practicing in the rain for the past two days.

Bagshaw yesterday put his team through a rigid workout of straight line plunging football, indicating he is basing his hopes on his line and is taking no chances with the weather.

The rain, however, has not checked the sale of tickets for the game and every seat is expected to be gone by this afternoon. Only a few now remain in the curve of the great bowl.

Coach Warner said today that his team will start the game at full strength.

PROSECUTION OF DONALD MAY FOLLOW ON HEELS OF FISTIC FIASCO AT WRIGLEY STADIUM

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Irate fight fans, who paid top prices to see a championship battle, but were treated to a fistic farce that ended in a riot, may demand the prosecution of Promoter Dick Donald for the Dundee-Hudkins fiasco last night, it was learned at the city prosecutor's office today.

While Donald, billed as the "Tex Rickard of the West" went into retirement today, the roar of some 20,000 aroused fans grew in volume and failure of Joe Dundee, welterweight champion, to meet Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "Wildcat" was being laid at the promoter's door.

Says Ticket Contract
"A ticket is a contract," William V. Krowl, chief deputy city prosecutor, who was at the Wrigley field ringside last night declared. "If the agreement is not carried out it constitutes a violation of law. Whether there is any grounds for action can only be determined by an investigation."

Krowl would not say what action would be taken until he had conferred with his chief, Dr. E. J. Lickley, while the district attorney's office said that any prosecution of the promoter must come through the city prosecutor's office.

No arrangements have been made, it is said, to reimburse the fans who paid as high as $11 for seats. Holders of stubs, it was pointed out may have a claim against the promoter, but those who paid general admission prices of $2.20, are without stubs and consequently without claims.

Fans Blame Promoter
Donald, it is charged by fans who are planning to take the case before Dr. Lickley, knew hours before the fight that he could not meet Dundee's $60,000 guarantee.

SANTA ANA 'B' TEAM DEFEATS ORANGE, 12-6

Touchdowns made in the first two quarters enabled the Santa Ana high school Class B (130-pound) team, coached by Clyde Cook, to score a 12 to 6 victory over the Orange high school lightweights at Orange yesterday afternoon. Although Santa Ana relied on straight football tactics the clash was not devoid of thrills.

Captain Melvin Smith carried the ball over the line for both Santa Ana touchdowns in the first half.

The Santa Ana "Bees" nearly took some more Orange honey in the last quarter. The ball had been carried the length of the field from the Poly 20-yard line at the close of the third period but in the first play of the fourth quarter Santa Ana fumbled and lost the ball.

Twice during the game Orange intercepted passes. One of these was snagged in the second quarter by Dungan, Orange quarterback, who raced 50 yards to a touchdown, tying the score at 6 to 6. Santa Ana broke the dead

No Chance For Yale-Troy Grid Contest

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—A letter from Tad Jones, coach of the Yale football team to his brother Howard, who guides the gridiron destinies of University of Southern California, has definitely spiked any chance of a post-season gridiron game, Howard Jones said here today.

The Jones brothers exchanged letters, Howard congratulating Tad for his victory over Dartmouth and Tad commending Howard for beating California.

Tad mentioned in his letter that Yale would be unable to consider any game on the Pacific coast, Howard said.

PHIL SCOTT IN AMERICAN RING DEBUT TONIGHT

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Phil Scott, British heavyweight champion, makes his American debut tonight against Knute Hansen, the none too durable Dane.

Until 10 p. m. Scott must be considered as one of the more vertical British heavyweights, and as such one of the rarities of the prize ring. After that hour we shall know more about his destination.

If Phil can get past the Dane, the road leads straight to big time and big money. Tex Rickard has waited too long for the return of a vertical British heavyweight, missing since the days of Charley Mitchell, not to fatten up the calf amidst general rejoicing if Scott makes the grade. Otherwise the Hackney Wick fire ladders probably will run a red undershirt up the flagpole and dust off a vacant chair against the hour of the return of the department's champion checker player.

The Dane is a magnificent fighting man, a clever boxer, and a hard hitter.

James J. Johnston, back in town with an armful of Alibi for Mike McGuire's defeat in Chicago the other night, will be in Scott's corner. The "boy bandit" realizes that his "stable" escutcheon—a boxer couchant and managers double crossed on a field of gold—has been besmirched by that knockout, and he is looking for Phil Scott to remove the stain.

Knute Hansen was elected as Scott's first opponent after some of the boys realized that in matching the Britisher with Paulino Uzcudun they stood an excellent chance of losing at least one foreign heavyweight from the field of contenders for Gene Tunney's title.

Paulino obligingly sprained his back and something decidedly softer—namely Hansen—was put up for Phil to pop at.

JENKS, KEELER MIX AT BEACH TONIGHT

It looks like another large night at the Huntington Beach fight arena tonight when Billy Jenks of Huntington Beach and Eddie Keeler of Wilmington come together in their second fight. Their first go went four rounds to a draw about a month ago. It is said that Jenks never has lost a fight and the information comes from Wilmington where Keeler has been fighting, that he is an improved boxer since he met Jenks the first time. Anyway as a main event it should be a "wow." The boys will weigh in at about 135 pounds.

POLY TO BOOST FULL STRENGTH FOR NEXT TEST

By GRIDDER

Santa Ana high school's full strength, available for the first time this season, will be thrown against the undefeated Pasadena Bulldogs, Coast Preparatory league leaders, in the Pasadena Bowl next Friday.

"Bomo" Koral, Poly's premier halfback, who has been out of commission ever since he was rudely tackled in the first few moments of the Huntington Park game here October 1, is back in suit and will be ready to go if Coach "Tex" Oliver says the word.

The same applies to Roger ("Doc") Hearn, stellar end, who broke his hand tackling Bill Mittelstedt in the Long Beach contest October 8.

Both Koral and Hearn have been taking easy practice sessions getting back in condition and beginning next week will experiment with their torn knee ligament and broken hand, respectively, and if the injured members hold up they both are apt to be in the starting lineup.

Koral probably will take his place in the regular backfield where Poly needs his interference-running and his consistent defensive work but Hearn is going to get a thorough trial at tackle. George Warner and "Red" Cooke give Oliver a pair of brilliant wingmen, too good to be benched even for such experienced help as "Doc" Hearn, but the "Doctor" will be welcomed with open arms if he is found to be as good a tackle as he was an end.

Elmore ("Whitney") Marten, the ace of last year's Anaheim eleven, has been named captain of the freshman eleven at Occidental college. Marten is a real triple-threat artist and should make the Tiger varsity a good man next fall if he succeeds in putting on additional weight. "Whitney" will be remembered as the second baseman on Anaheim's night baseball team last summer.

Officials of the Nebraska High School conference are experimenting with a plan to do away with tied football games, the same idea as was tested in the Coast Preparatory league last year and disregarded as unsuccessful. Six alternate plays are given each side and the team that gains the most yardage is acclaimed the victor.

Wallace Wade, the Alabama football coach, tells the season's funniest football story. The yarn has been heard before but it is worth repeating.

"I once witnessed a football game between two colored teams which met one balmy October afternoon," Wade said.

"The game was hotly contested and up until the fourth quarter there had been no scoring. Both teams had equal difficulty in getting their teammates to give the proper amount of interference for the man carrying the ball. Then in came a giant to substitute for a quarterback, and, boys, he was big and fast. Here is the way he would go:

While there will always be a difference of opinion as to the greatest right-hander in the history of baseball, with Johnson, Mathewson, Alexander and Young receiving plenty of votes, the fact remains that Cy Young boasts a few records which the other three have not equalled.

In the first place, Young is the only pitcher ever to win over 500 games. Johnson with a few more than 400, is the only pitcher who has a chance to equal Young's record of 511. It is a rather remote one.

Another noteworthy record was the winning of 20 or more games for 14 consecutive seasons. His highest mark was 36 victories in 1892. The best Mathewson ever did was 12 years of 20 or more wins, while Johnson's record is 10 years, and Alexander's, five.

Young is the only pitcher who has pitched three no-hit games during his connection with the big show. His first hitless affair was against Cincinnati of the National league during the 1897 season. His other two were in the American league. Against the Athletics in 1904 he worked a perfect game, not a player reaching first base. At the age of 41, he shut out the Yankees in 1908 without a hit.

The winning of 500 games, 14 consecutive seasons of 20 or more victories, and as the ball went sailing into his hands he would start around tearing around and shouting:

"Interference, follow me!"

BEATTY NAMED LOCAL CAPTAIN ON GAME EVE

Pasadena College One of Most Feared Opponents In 'Jaycee' Conference

When the Santa Ana junior college eleven meets the powerful Pasadena aggregation here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Blanchard Beatty, the flaxon-haired Newport Beach boy who formerly sported on the gridiron for Santa Ana high school, will lead his teammates on the Poly greensward for possibly one of the greatest games of his career.

For Beatty will not only call the signals from his position as quarterback, but also will pilot the team as captain.

The election of a leader for the local college squad has been delayed this season by Coach Bill Cook because of the fact that the squad was composed chiefly of freshmen but when the squad was called together Beatty was chosen by unanimous vote.

In the game with the Occidental freshmen, won by Santa Ana 19 to 6, Beatty was acting captain.

The newly elected skipper has been unable to play in any of the conference games so far because of an injury to his ankle received in practice. He made a brief but disastrous debut in the Fullerton scuffle when he was injured again. The bad ankle has been allowed three weeks to heal since then.

At the same time that Santa Ana is regaining Captain Beatty, the Pasadena Pirates are being strengthened by the return of "Slick" Stocks, their dusky backfield star.

Two DETROITS would fit into "DUNLOP CITY"

Throughout the world the productive Dunlop properties cover so vast an area that—if combined into one place—they would form a "Dunlop City" of over 100,000 acres.

BEFORE Detroit started to make motor-cars, Dunlop had founded the pneumatic tire industry.

Thanks to the automobile, both Detroit and "Dunlop City" have grown tremendously.

Now Detroit reaches out over 52,686 acres, while "Dunlop City" covers over 100,000 acres.

And even greater than the size of "Dunlop City," is Dunlop's world-wide reputation for building uniformly supreme Dunlop Tires.

RIOT FOLLOWS CANCELING OF JOE-ACE BOUT

The field until some one evidently remembered the $2.50 general admission seats had not carried stubs and the buyers were "out of luck." This caused about 2000 persons to mill around Donald's office.

A call went in for police reserves and the fire department was petitioned for aid when a stack of chairs were set afire. When the blaze was out, the fire apparatus was lined up in front of the promoter's office ready to bathe the crowd if the disorder became acute. About midnight the promoter was escorted from the field under heavy police guard.

Donald has made no announcement as yet, while with the exception of the "no contest" decision, the commission has been silent. A meeting of all concerned in the final settlement, is scheduled for some time today.

Jackie Fields beat Joey Silver in the first preliminary, while Vince Dundee, brother of the champion, knocked out Eddie Maloney in the second round of the final bout.

ARREST OF DONALD MAY FOLLOW FIASCO

They declare that he should not have opened the gates to Wrigley field and permitted thousands of ticket holders to be bilked.

Efforts of the boxing commission to straighten out the tangle consumed three hours before the fight was finally called off. No official statement was made to the fans other than an announcement by Frank Kerwin, Donald's assistant that Dundee had refused to go on.

Donald claimed that his enemies were responsible for the collapse of the bout. He made no official statement but was quoted as saying that he would blow the lid off being in Southern California before the affair was over.

Max Waxman, Dundee's manager, said that "he was sorry that the fight did not go on," but that because of Donald's failure to post the guarantee and a last minute controversy over the referee, he could do nothing but refuse to allow Dundee to enter the ring.

Waxman declared that his contract called for the posting of $75,000 on the arrival of the champion and his manager in this city. On the plea of Donald he said they agreed to wait until ten days before the fight for money.

"He failed to post it and I wanted to call the fight off before we weighed in this afternoon," Waxman said, "but Donald promised that he would have the money to-night."

"When he failed to turn over the money in justice to my boy, we refused to go on. In addition, the contract stipulated that George Blake should referee, but the commission had two other referees there and refused to name Blake," Waxman said.

Lieutenant Governor Buren Fitts who was at the ringside, said the affair was a "terrible blow to boxing."

HUDKINS CLAIMS WORLD'S WELTER CROWN
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—While arrests in connection with the Dundee-Hudkins fiasco at Wrigley field last night appeared imminent today, Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska Wildcat," claimed the world's welterweight championship.

"Joe Dundee knew he was going to be knocked out if he entered the ring last night," Clyde Hudkins, brother and manager of the challenger told the United Press today. "You can draw your own conclusions."

SANTA ANA COLLEGE READY FOR PIRATES

after the game tomorrow will be completely eliminated from the race for the title. Of all the teams in the conference, Coach Cook fears the Pasadena aggregation the most, not hating even Compton, undefeated leader. In fact, Coach Cook expects Pasadena to defeat Compton and thinks Santa Ana also can turn the trick.

For the backfield that will start tomorrow, the positions have been assigned to Beatty, quarterback; Bill Poe and Bill Luck halfbacks and Luke Davis, fullback.

Spencer Stewart and Mark Martin will be at ends; Harry Weaverling and Jack Casey at tackles; Keith Farrar and John Fitz at guards and Donald Woodington at center.

In eligibility may yet lop off the heads of two of the players, but Coach Cook was holding out the hope today that they would become eligible by passing special examinations.

PASADENA COLLEGE TO PLAY IN HONOLULU
HONOLULU, Nov. 4.—Possibility that the football teams of St. Louis college, Honolulu, and Pasadena junior college, will meet here December 3 was announced today by alumni of the local institution. The University of Southern California team, according to alumni officials, has been offered a guarantee of $5000 expenses and has signified that sum satisfactory.

An invitation for the game was extended following reports that the heavy schedule of the San Mateo junior college college team would not enable that squad to make the journey.

BAREFOOT BOY

"The barefoot boy with shoes on" is what they call Henry Hughes, Hawaiian fullback on the Oregon State freshman football team. He practices punting in his bare feet and sends a ball off his bare insteps for 50 and 60 yards. He claims to have learned how to punt barefooted in his native land where he went to school and played football in his bare feet.

JUNIOR CO-EDS HUMBLE SOPHS IN BASKETBALL

Gamely battling their best, the sophomore girls valiantly attempted to score their first victory of the interclass series being played at Santa Ana high school when they clashed with their rivals, the junior co-ed sextette, yesterday afternoon, but they fell short with the final score 30 to 21.

During the first half, the sophomores, chiefly through the playing of Miss Fitzsimmons, 15 forward on the underclass team, held their junior opponents 10 to 10.

A split in the second half enabled the juniors to clinch the victory which assured them of second place in the interclass series, the seniors already having won the championship. One more game remains to be played between the seniors and sophomores next Monday. Although the undefeated seniors are expected to win, the outcome of the game will not affect the standings.

The lineup: (21) Sophomores: Juniors (18) F... (19) Fitzsimmons Hurd (12) F... (2) Holmes Breckenridge... C... Howard Allen... G... Gillius Moon... G... Anderson Substitutes: Juniors—Sherwood for Breckenridge; Bennington for McKinstry; Martin for Bennington; Feible for Moon. Sophomores—Miles for Coppe; Starich for Howard; Smith for Starich; Schilling for Smith; Bircher for Anderson; Reynolds for Bircher.

WILLARD'S PIRATES WIN FROM WILDCATS

The Pirates and Wildcats of Frances E. Willard junior high school met in their second game of football yesterday, the pirates winning by a score of 6 to 0. The Pirates also captured the first game, 13 to 6, so the second victory gave them victory in the series.

The elevens were tied at 0 to 0 until well along in the second half

BASEBALL MEN FACE PECULIAR REBUILDING JOB

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—A queer problem in the matter of player talent faces major league owners as they rebuild their teams for the 1928 season.

The puzzle lies in an over-supply of good ball-players for some positions and a distinct shortage of even ordinarily good ball-players for other places.

Perhaps shortstop is giving big-league managers more trouble than any other place on the diamond. At least half a dozen clubs would like to have a good short-fielder. Third base is a close second. There are few clubs in the majors who would not gamble on a chance for betterment at the hot corner.

On the other hand there is an abundance of good first-basemen. Names like Sisler, Judge, Clancy, Gehrig, Bottomley, Burns, Neum and Terry tell the story there.

Second base also is well cared for on a majority of the clubs.

In the outfield there are stars a plenty. If one were to attempt to pick an all-star outfield—well picking the three best outfielders in the two majors is virtually impossible.

Catching is somewhat of a problem. Curiously enough the two clubs which won the league pennants this year were not overly strong in the backstopping department.

Bengough and Grabowski, who did most of the Yankees' work between them certainly cannot be considered stars. Gooch, Spencer, and Smith, carriers of the Pirate backstopping burden, are fair receivers. Smith, one of the hardest hitting catchers in the big leagues, couldn't seem to get his bat going.

Just where the majors are going to obtain the players needed to strengthen their clubs is not apparent. The rookies who showed promise during the last few weeks of the season can be counted on one hand.

A STATEMENT BY PACKARD

WE ARE appreciative of the fact that with the large increase in demand for the Packard car you may be under the impression that delivery cannot be made for several months. This is wrong.

During this year Packard has invested nearly ten million dollars in increased manufacturing facilities. This expenditure is now bearing fruit in increased production, and today we can offer reasonable dates of delivery on nearly all types and practically immediate delivery on the Packard Six five-passenger sedan.

Why not buy a Packard Six today, pay for it within a year, as many prefer to do, and then keep it five or more years as does the average owner? If your present car is of average value it will more than make the new car down payment and leave no cash outlay except for the small monthly notes.

The Packard Six five-passenger sedan, delivered, costs you but

LOCAL SCIOTS ATTEND FRESNO STATE MEETING

Among the Santa Ana Sciots to leave during the past week for Fresno where they planned to attend the annual state convention in session there, were A. H. Gritton, toparch of the local pyramid, Ben Livesey, Ray Graham, Ed French, George Hubbard, Frank Wright, Walter Wright, John Walker, Earl Lindig, Frank Ulrey, Lloyd Roach, and Ralph Barker. The Sciots left Santa Ana with the expectation of attending the best Sciote convention ever held in California. They had made plans to attend a number of colorful ceremonials and the many theaters and ball rooms which were to be thrown open for the Sciots' entertainment during the time of the convention. The business sessions also gave promise of interest as the elections arouse a great deal of enthusiasm, it was explained by Gritton.

Plans have just been announced for the annual charity ball to be held in K. F. hall the night of Thanksgiving day, November 24, 8:30 o'clock. Proceeds from this dance are to be added to the Sciote Christmas fund which is used to purchase food and clothing for needy families in Santa Ana at Christmas time.

The committee includes A. H. Gritton, chairman, L. E. Roach, N. E. Mayhew, L. A. Wallace, L. E. Wallace.

SWIFT JUSTICE IS ADVOCATED FOR CRIMINALS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—"Loading the Dice" against crime by exacting "an eye for an eye" and making punishment swift and sure is advocated by Leona Marie Esch, head of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice.

Only in this way can America stop its crime increase, Miss Esch, who is one of the few women delegates attending the National Crime association conference here, told the United Press.

The average criminal, she said, believes he can "beat the game." "He gambles with the law," she explained, "playing three to one he never will be caught, two to one he never will be convicted and then playing a last chance he never will be sent to a state penal institute."

These betting odds of criminals must be reduced, Miss Esch asserted. First, "Educational methods" must be used, with the home, school and church teaching the wrong of crime.

"If these three institutions fail to do their duty, then it is up to the courts," she said. "Improvement of local administration of justice should be had through co-operation of public officials and effective functioning of justice machinery."

Jail sentences should be meted out in place of fines to habitual criminals. In capital cases I favor capital punishment, for if the punishment were made to fit the crime criminals would be less apt to fall for temptations."

NO CURE YET FOR CANCER, IS CLAIM

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Cancer is preventable, but as yet there is no cure for it, Dr. Disraeli Kobak, president of the American College of Physical Therapy, told a convention of his organization here.

Approximately 2500 physicians and surgeons from all parts of the world are attending the meeting. "The cause of cancer still is to be found," Dr. Kobak said. "There is no absolute cure. Cancer is preventable and education from recognized medical bodies is of utmost importance. Irritations and growths should be brought to the attention of physicians early."

The merits of physical therapy, which consist of treatment of cancer with light, heat and other artificially generated physical forces, were discussed at the meeting.

INEBRIATE CHOOSES SUBWAY FOR PLAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Joseph Hennessy chose the subway tracks in Brooklyn to play on during the rush hour and all traffic stopped for 16 minutes. Hennessy, who is 41, but frisky, imbibed too freely and capered down the tunnel, careless of the deadly third rail and roaring trains. Then he reeled against an emergency switch and all power was shut off.

A train crew got Hennessy aboard and the passengers, among them many thousands who were being made late for work, threatened to beat him. But Hennessy only grinned and sang funny songs for them. By the time the power was on and the train reached Manhattan, they were all good friends. Police took Hennessy in charge.

EMPLOYEES OF STATE OPPOSE RETIRING PLAN

By CLEM WHITAKER
(Staff Correspondent Santa Ana Register)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4.—Sailors on California's good Ship of State, backed by several thousand determined yeomanettes of the stenographic corps, have girded themselves for battle.

The state employees' army, navy or whatever you wish to call it, is prepared to fight for the right to stay in harness—even to die in harness, if a rigorous body and a clear mind give them that right.

Captained by "Jack" Stafford, veteran skipper of the Third District Court of Appeals, the 8000 government workers are massing under the slogan, "No Compulsory Retirement." And the battle cry is being carried to every corner of the state where civil service employees may be found.

Fear of "reverse English" in the newly broached plan for a pension system for all state workers occasioned the call to arms, according to Stafford, 49-year-old crusader, who first boarded the ship of state back in 1933.

"We are strongly in accord with the plan to establish a pension system for state employees who have grown old in the service and are no longer able to work," said Stafford.

"But we are just as strongly opposed to any plan which would compel the retirement of a state employee, either at any fixed age, or after any specific time of service."

"So long as we are fit to work, capable of carrying on our duties without loss of efficiency, we want the right to continue at our jobs. It would be unfair to the individual and poor business for the state to oust employees arbitrarily at a given age, or after a certain term of office."

To demonstrate their pep regardless of advancing years, veteran employees announce they will "Dance to pay the actuary." The dance, which will be held here in the near future, will be utilized to raise funds for the employment of an actuary who will investigate the pension systems and submit an independent report to Governor Young "giving the workers' plan." Dan Sullivan, oldest state employee in point of service, who is rounding out his forty-sixth year in the state printing department, will lead the grand march. "Billy" Wick, assistant superintendent of the capitol building, with "Bob" Alexander, deputy printer, Frank Swayne of the controller's office and other veterans will assist Sullivan and Stafford in demonstrating that one never grows old in the state service.

The aroused employees already have won their first victory point, it was announced, as W. A. Johnston, state civil service commissioner, has announced himself opposed to compulsory retirement.

4,000,000-Year Old Fossil Found

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 4.—The unearthing of remains of a 4,000,000-year-old man in the fossil beds of western Nebraska by Dr. Harold Cook, who heads the Colorado Museum of Natural history, has caused a vast deal of interest in the anthropological world, and a number of young and old professors and explorers have been looking over the find.

Most of them agree that Dr. Cook was right in putting him back so far in the pages of history and have been particularly interested in reconstructing, from the articles found in the same collection of ancient, the life of the man of that period. They say that there is nothing to indicate that he survived the later glacial period and are quite certain that the Indians who were found here when the white men came are not his descendants, there being but the slightest resemblance in anatomical structure.

Hollow bones drilled like the fives of today were the only finds that indicated the use of musical instruments. The signs the professors read so easily show to their satisfaction that the primitive man was here many years, but finally succumbed to freezing and starvation.

Old Clock Given Needed Cleaning

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Anne Boleyn's clock, a gift from Henry VIII on her wedding day, is being cleaned and given a general overhauling for the first time in many years. The clock, but 10 inches in height, is now one of the treasures of Buckingham palace. It formerly belonged to Horace Walpole and when his effects were sold Queen Victoria bought the timepiece for 110 pounds.

Another specimen at the palace, the town residence of the King and Queen, is known as an "act of parliament clock," a clock which grew out of a tax imposed on watches by Pitt. When the tax became effective, watches were worn less and less and tavern keepers and as many housekeepers as could afford it adopted a bold mural timepiece for the benefit of their customers.

Larynx Device Is Exhibited

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The mute may be able to speak and the deaf to hear by means of inventions exhibited here at the annual convention of the Independent Telephone association.

An artificial larynx for the use of those whose vocal cords have been destroyed was exhibited. An electric ear by which the deaf may be enabled to hear through finger vibrations also was shown.

A device which would allow radio messages to be broadcast in secrecy was also on exhibition. Sergius P. Grace, general commercial engineer of the Bell laboratories, exhibited the radio machine.

He said a radio listener trying to tune in on a message, meant to be secret would get nothing but unintelligible sounds while the person for whom the message was meant could understand perfectly.

Native Daughters of the Golden West will hold a cooked food sale on Saturday, Nov. 5 at Anderson's Grocery, also a rummage sale at 308 E. 4th St. Anyone having donations call 474-M for rummage sale or 1103 for food sale.—(Adv.)

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he has used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them, no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

DIVES IN RIVER TO SAVE LETTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—A story of the most obliging young man in the world came to light when the steamboat Rensselaer of the Hudson river night line docked at pier 32, North river. His fame must be anonymous, for no one thought to take his name. It is known only that he dressed neatly, had blond hair, impeccable manners and a Swedish accent.

A few minutes before midnight he was lounging on the quarter-deck in conversation with one who was described as a portly business man. The night boat was approaching Hudson, having left Albany at 9 o'clock. The business man reached into a pocket and produced a letter. He was waving it in his hand as if about to display to his companion a document of some importance, when a breeze caught it and whisked it over the rail.

"Too bad," the young man sympathized. "I'll get it for you."

Springing lightly over the rail, he was lost in the dark river water. Shouts of "man overboard" rang up and down the decks, and passengers dashed to the rail, some who had just retired neglecting to don appropriate attire.

"Reverse engines. Full steam astern," shouted Captain William Van Woert, and the big vessel halted and began to move backward. The searchlights were played up and down the river. Nowhere was the yellow head of the polite passenger to be observed. An air of catastrophe had settled over the buzzing throng that lined the rails when a faint cry was heard.

The searchlights turned to the shores of Rattlesnake island, where, on an ancient wharf, was discerned the dripping figure of the most obliging young man in the world, the letter in his right hand.

A lifeboat brought him back and after a half hour's delay the Rensselaer resumed her trip.

$30,000 AWARDED PARALYZED WORKER

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 4.—Judgment of $30,000 was awarded in circuit court here to James Brackett, Kansas City laborer and former employee of the James Black Masonry and Contracting company.

Brackett suffered a broken neck and paralysis of the right arm and shoulder when Charles W. Seigfried, a carpenter, fell from a scaffold and landed on him as he was at work on the ground.

Original damages asked were $75,000.

Danish Art To Be Shown In U. S.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 3.—Danish efforts to bring about satisfaction of the creative instinct are exemplified in an exhibit which will travel across the United States under the protectorate of Crown Prince Frederick.

The exhibit was brought to this country at the invitation of Dr. William H. Fox of the Brooklyn museum. It is worth approximately $1,000,000 and includes paintings, sculpture, porcelain art ware, ceramics, silver metal work and even furniture and textiles.

Already museums in more than two score large American cities have asked for opportunity to display the exhibit. But since such a protracted tour might require two to four years, only about 10 cities scattered between New York and San Francisco will be visited.

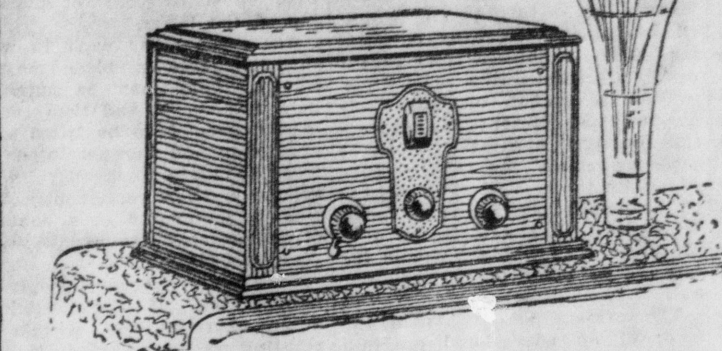

Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark has always taken a keen interest in the development of creative art in industry among his people. He had even planned to accompany the exhibit to America, but state circumstances arose that compelled him to remain at home. The art objects on display in Brooklyn bring about vividly many phases of life and nature in the Scandinavian country. There are sunlit impressions of the Danish fjords, blue-eyed northern children at play or listening at their mother's knee to some well loved Andersen fairy tale.

There are also odd pieces with an Oriental touch, in which the Chinese and Near East influences are evident.

INVENTOR OF FLY SWATTER IS POOR

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 4.—For many years William Lase, a sailor, has been buffeted about the world with scarcely a soul knowing that he is the supposed inventor of the fly swatter.

Hate and hearty, he walks about not one cent richer by his discovery. His eyes frozen in a storm off the coast of Newfoundland years ago, he is now compelled to spend the summer months in the Chequamegon bay region to save his sight.

The fly swatter is so common that it is taken for granted. Who invented it and the circumstances of its origin had not been known until recently, when friends of Lase told of the discovery made by him in 1896.

Determined to kill an handful of flies crawling about on a window pane, Lase picked up a piece of screening and brushed it against them. Viewing the casualties, he conceived the idea of attaching a handle. The slaughter then became even more effective.

He made several more swatters and gave them to friends. Realizing that his simple idea might be worth a patent, the sailor sought to borrow the money necessary for patent fees. He was ridiculed and the patent was never obtained.

Millions of swatters are on the market now. Swat the fly? became a national slogan.

Lase, 63 years old, tells strange stories of life on the sea. His eye misfortune befell him in 1886. Leaving Rotterdam, N. Y., in the dead of winter, the sailing vessel Strathay made its way to New York to take a cargo of case oil for Japan. Off the coast of Newfoundland a "northwester" arose. Lase, then 25, was wheelman. From 4 a. m. to 11 a. m. he guided the bark in a blinding blizzard.

"My right eye was frozen shut and I could hardly see through my left one when I was at last relieved," he said.

Pretty Girls Halt Roaming Of Males

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—If it weren't for the attraction of the American girl about 90 per cent of the men in the country, at least the musical ones, would apparently be off the bounding main or surrendering without a struggle to the lure of the open road.

This conclusion is reached by officials of the Associated Glee Clubs of America after a preliminary survey of musical entries submitted in their contest for the best male chorus composition.

Sea chanties and gypsy songs bulk large among the contributions and are surpassed in number only by sentimental ballads directed to some ravishing creature for whom it would be a pleasure to give up even the delights of high adventure.

SAME CHARTER

MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—The Bank of Montreal, 110 years old, still operates under royal charter of King William IV. and one clause (never enforced) provides death "without benefit of clergy" for an embezzling employee.

Southern California Gardens

By RUSSELL S. ADKINSON

Live Christmas Trees

While many of us are interested in beautifying our community and are endeavoring to multiply our annual planting of trees and flowers, others are destroying nature's handiwork. One ghastly smash of their axe destroys forever that which nature has mused for years. Many of us in turn add these mutilators of the forest by purchasing these slaughtered trees for the family Christmas tree.

There is a noble movement under way at present to suppress this activity. A great deal can be done to remedy the existing condition by the public. The success of any such program rests with the individual, and it is the duty of those of us who are deeply interested in plant life to lend our aid.

The present activity is in the form of an educational program to encourage the use of live Christmas trees instead of those of once thriving plants of the forest. This not only prevents the destruction of what is already growing but adds to it as well.

Great carloads of cut trees are shipped into Southern California each year and distributed throughout the homes to aid in our Yuletide celebrations. After a brief period they are tossed aside with never a thought of what the future might have held in store for them. The homes in which we enjoy life today are dependent upon matured forests that started from just such trees.

The present consumption of lumber from these forests is of such a greatness that we should not destroy the present young growth to which we must turn in the future for our building material.

The live Christmas tree adds more to the enjoyment of the use of the tree, too. There is the satisfaction of feeling that it is real, and also permanent. While the original cost may be greater than that of the cut tree, it is more than offset by constant purchasing of the latter.

There are many ways in which the live tree problem may be solved. They may be purchased in a tub or pot and then set out in the ground to be lifted again next year and brought in, or they may be set out directly in the ground and left permanently. They may be purchased in a container of sufficient size to permit several years growth.

Each year sees many people employing one of these methods. Some churches and schools are planting on their grounds in order to have a fine community tree. This method is very practical as it adds to the community to have these trees out to the public view all the year and ready each Christmas to do their part.

Kinds to Use

Practically every conifer is used although some are superior to others. Chief among these is the Cedrus deodora, Monterey Pine, Halapensis Pine, Libocedrus, and California Redwood. These are all beautiful trees and well adapted to our conditions. The prices are not exorbitant on any. Most of them may be purchased in small sizes and grown into suitable Christmas tree size.

All of us may do our part by planting a tree and telling others of it. They will appreciate it when they see ours.

DU PONT SCION IN TRAINING AT AVIATION CAMP

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 4.—Alexis Felix DuPont, Jr., son of one of the nation's oldest families and heir to millions, has taken his place in Uncle Sam's army as flying cadet at Brooks field here.

This morning he awoke on a cot—a cadet among 120 others of equal rank in the cadet barracks.

It was a timid youth, this son of A. F. DuPont, vice president of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours, of Wilmington, Del., whom the United Press correspondent sought out.

"I haven't a thing to say," was his comment when summoned by his cadet commandant to talk with the correspondent.

Urged for a statement of some kind, young DuPont backed away toward the door.

"What did you pick me out for?" he asked.

"I'm just a cadet here for training and I would much rather you would not say a word about me," Young DuPont finally admitted that he became interested in flying "and took up aeronautics."

Last year I came down to San Antonio to look over the army flying schools and decided that I wanted to take my training here.

"It's the best place to learn flying."

Through his retiring manner and effort to keep out of the public eye, young DuPont already has won the admiration of the older cadets.

"He's just the kind of a chap we like to have around," one of the student flyers said.

Deputy, Prisoner Stage Foot Race, But Officer Wins

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., Nov. 4.—Shopping crowds were electrified by a spectacular foot race staged by Jack Lang, deputy sheriff of Kern county, and William Livingston, a prisoner in the county jail, whom he was escorting to the court house for sentence.

Livingston leaped from the automobile in which the two men were riding and dashed up K street, heading into heavy traffic, zigzagging in evident expectation of a bullet.

The deputy parked his car and hot-footed after the prisoner. In the heart of the business district he ran Livingston down and recaptured him without further struggle.

Livingston, convicted of a statutory offense, then was taken before Judge William Depy and sentenced to San Quentin for one to 50 years.

Keep Hats On, Elevator Sign

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 4.—"For convenience and service, gentlemen will please not remove their hats in the elevator."

Such is the notice framed behind glass in the two elevators in the Carolina Life Insurance building.

"The elevators in this building are not large," it was explained. "When men remove their hats and hold them down by their sides the hats are likely to be crushed—and then three or four straw hats take up considerable room. Then in larger cities the practice of removing hats in elevators has been discontinued."

Many a Columbian on entering an elevator and noticing meanwhile that certain other male passengers kept their hats on, has rather congratulated himself on his nose observance of the regulations of polite society—thought himself superior, perhaps, and possessed of a more delicate appreciation of what was right and proper in the presence of women—felt a powerful urge to snatch off offending passengers' hats and exclaim: "We take off our hats in the presence of women in the south."

What to do with your hat in an elevator when a girl is operating the vehicle and when women are among the passengers has long been a puzzle to many men.

Men don't take off their hats when riding in buses; they did not remove them when riding in the late lamented street cars; they did not take them off unless for comfort when aboard railway trains—all public carriers.

And the elevator, too, might be regarded as a sort of public carrier.

But, as a general thing, in the south at any rate, men have not looked upon the elevator as in quite the same class as the bus or trolley car, and the custom of removing hats is generally observed in Columbia.

PILL-TAKER FREED FROM HIS HABIT

ALL-BRAN brought natural relief from chronic constipation

Constipation is almost a universal curse—father of more than forty diseases. Yet there is real assurance in Mr. Ladue's letter:

"After sixteen years of taking pills, it cured me. If the millions of people that suffer from constipation only knew what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN would do, some of the pill-makers would go out of business. Every doctor should recommend it. I tell all that I know so that they can get the joy out of life I am getting since I started on Kellogg's ALL-BRAN 3 months ago."

Mr. JULIAN LADUE, Burlington, Vt.

Hollow cheeks, pimples, listlessness are some of the symptoms. Don't risk it another day. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Delicious with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey. Use in cooking. Comes ready to eat. Sold and served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes on package.

Elephant Recalls Act Of Kindness

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Elephants play the chief roles in reminiscences of the "Barnum of Britain," E. H. Bostock, who spent 50 years on the road with circuses, menageries and theaters. Bostock tells how, when boxing kangaroos were all the rage, he had to train the animals for these stunts, and finally, seeking something new, he gained a great lead over other rival circus men by producing a wrestling lion.

His favorite elephant was Lizzie, born in the African jungles. While showing one day in Tenbury, Lizzie was taken with a severe attack of colic and was obviously in such pain that the local "vet" not being within call, Bostock called in the best known Tenbury chemist. Though unused to prescribing for elephants, the chemist made up a bucket full of mixture which Lizzie swallowed without demur when told to do so by her trainer. The good effects were immediate. The colic was conquered, and within a day or two Lizzie was herself again.

Here is the sequel: "Four years later the menagerie was back in the same town. The local chemist, keen to have a look at his former patient, was standing on the curbstone watching the entrance of the show.

"The moment Lizzie came abreast of the chemist she recognized her former benefactor, swung round, deserted the formation and with a 'honk' of joy almost rushed the chemist off his feet."

MACHINE TO SOLVE BRAIN PROBLEMS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 4.—An electrical machine with a "mechanical" mind that solves involved mathematical problems too complex for the human brain has been perfected at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology by Dr. Vannevar Bush, professor of electric power transmission, and a staff of research workers. The institute, in announcing the development today, said the apparatus, known as a "product integrator," will open the way to hitherto inaccessible fields of research. These are expected to lie largely along electrical lines as the work was begun to evolve a machine that would solve rapidly and accurately problems of advanced electrical theory which have troubled engineers. "The product integrator," Dr. Bush explained in the announcement today, "might be called an adding machine carried to an extreme in its design. Where workers in the business world are ordinarily satisfied with addition, subtraction, multiplication and division of numbers, the engineer deals with curves and graphs which represent for him the past, present and future of the things in which he deals. In operating the machine the mathematician or engineer in effect feeds into it the equations and parts of the problem which cannot now be solved by formal mathematics. The answer is turned out in from eight minutes to a few hours. A watt hour meter similar to those used in homes for recording electrical power consumption is engineer using the machine feeds the foundation of the machine. The equations used, and these are passed slowly over pointers which operators stationed along the apparatus keep on the curves of the plots. As the pointers move along the curves the power flowing through the meter varies proportionately, and that used is totaled and recorded. The meter controls a motor which drives a pencil along another moving sheet of paper on which a curve, known as the integral, is traced. Zenith Radio at Gerwing's.—Adv.

SAYS U. S. HOMES BECOMING SHODDY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—American home builders are paying more attention to interior decoration than to construction of their houses, resulting in shoddy structures, inconvenience and financial loss, according to Axel H. Oxholm, director of the national committee on wood utilization of the commerce department and an expert on construction. In addition to general negligence and ignorance on the part of the average home builder, there are many incompetent contractors to make the situation worse, he said, in an interview with the United Press. "Many builders," Oxholm said, "do not know their business. Sometimes their work is defective because of the rush to finish." "The average home owner frequently pays scant attention to important fundamental construction details often covered in the completed house behind plaster and wal paper. He judges only by what he sees. He must learn about construction so that he knows what is behind the plaster and wall paper. "Many builders themselves don't know how to frame houses so as to guard against defects. Negligence result in cracked plaster, squeaky floors, sagging of frame work, sticking doors and other symptoms of defective construction. It seems that in far too many cases more attention is given to the color of the wall paper and other details of minor importance." Oxholm says that the remedy is for the home builder to learn about construction and to insist that the builder follow the plans as drawn by competent architects. Otherwise, his home will cost him far more than its initial building cost, besides the inconvenience caused by failure of defective parts. STILL INTERESTED NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Still interested in politics at the age of 88, Chauncey Depew has consented to address a Republican reception to Mrs. Ruth Pratt, aldewoman.

LAGUNA STREET REPAIRS CITY COUNCIL TOPIC

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 4.—Canvass of the annexation election ballots, reading of the ordinance of annexation, consideration of ways and means of repairing streets and prospects of cutting two alleys through the block bounded by Coast boulevard, Forest and Ocean avenues and Beach street, occupied the attention of the city council at Wednesday night's session.

Check of the ballots annexing Addition No. 1 to the city found the original returns of 20 for and 18 against correct.

How to repair streets became the chief topic when a letter from John Jehle and other members of his family directing attention to washouts on a street in the Arch Beach section and asserting a protest against assessments for repairs in excess of what would be required now if delay entails greater expense, was read.

Maps were brought by City Engineer A. J. Stead to show the exact point and the discussion as to run-offs, natural waterways, property owners' liabilities and obstruction of waterways took the matter somewhat far afield. Mr. Jehle pointed out that the washing of earth and consequent cave-ins would become worse with each rain, increasing the cost of repairs and making the problem constantly worse. It was finally referred to the city engineer for a report back to the council.

Discussion of the problem of preventing wash of gutters on various streets brought out the fact that work had not been started on Park street leading to the school house because the city had no machinery for the work and had been unable to borrow from the county, state or any private individual. It was the conviction of members of the council that it would be a matter of economy, as well as of necessity, to purchase a scarifier and other machinery.

Frank B. Champion reported to the council that he had requested a continuance of times to study the matter of cutting an alley lengthwise of the block bounded by Coast boulevard on the south and Beach street on the west, paralleling Forest and Ocean avenues. A project to cut an alley across the block the other way has been under discussion, the latter to be a matter of breaking the 780 foot block to reduce the fire hazard. Ways and means of getting the alleys through were discussed and the matter was finally referred to the city engineer.

Councilman George S. Johnston reported that the county sanitary department had pointed out that certain state laws were not being observed and that it would be necessary to take action. The city attorney was instructed to procure a copy of the laws.

Draining the foot of Ocean avenue entailed a $25 fee for an easement across property, according to City Engineer Stead. The drain is temporary until Ocean avenue is graded.

A letter from county officials asking that a statement be made showing expenses in connection with the work on the slough to protect the highway was read and the city attorney was requested to draft the formal statement required. Engineer Stead was instructed to carry on work for protection of buildings south of the culvert under the highway.

Report of City Clerk G. W. Prior showed $276 collected from business licenses, dog tax, fines and penalties. Expenditures authorized amounted to $3483.62, leaving a balance in the city treasury of $2708.21.

ANAHEIM "Y" CAMPAIGN TO BE CONTINUED

ANAHEIM, Nov. 4.—Though the full quota of $6500 set in the Anaheim Y. M. C. A.'s annual financial canvass had not been reached as hoped when the final report luncheon was held yesterday in the "Y" building on South Philadelphia street, individual efforts are to be continued until the subscriptions are brought to an amount more adequate to finance the work here, Secretary Conrad Jongeward reports.

Workers who gathered at the meeting reported a total of 139 more subscriptions secured since the last report meeting last week, representing a total of $726.50 in new pledges.

M. E. Beebe's team again won the award for reporting the greatest amount of money pledged, 74 subscriptions for $431, being given credit for $170 collected by the special gift committee. R. J. Grange's team reported 60 subscriptions totaling $295.50. The total amount now pledged is $5234.50.

This amount has been pledged by 440 subscribers, more than 100 less than the total number of subscribers to the cause last year. Secretary Jongeward pointed out. Rainy weather during part of the drive and other causes have prevented the volunteer workers from seeing these 100 or more people, he said. ## ONE MURDERED. TWO HURT IN FEUD RENEWAL

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., Nov. 3.—One man was dead and two others were in the Garvin county jail here today in another chapter of the old feud between the Martin and Carlton families.

Down a 12-year trail the feud has fought its way to the deaths of three men, principals of family bitterness, begun when Dora, a quarter blood Chickasaw girl and heiress to Indian lands, married against her family wishes.

First to die was old Jim Martin, pioneer; second, George Carlton, his son-in-law, accused killer, and third, Henry Martin, son of Jim and convicted slayer of Carlton. All three were shot to death in this quiet Washita valley town. The younger Martin, 45, was shot and killed as he came to consult counsel here in his appeal from a 25-year prison term for Carlton's death. Buster Cape, 29, and W. H. "Slim" Finley, 33, both of whom testified against him in his recent trial, were arrested.

The family bitterness began two years before the World war, when George Carlton, farmhand, first loved Dora, daughter of Jim Martin and heiress to a Chickasaw Indian estate. Returning from service, he married her against wishes of the Martins.

Later the Elder Martin attempted to annul the marriage and in the court skirmishes that followed bitterness rose to a climax when Carlton slew his father-in-law in an alley-way here, May 4, 1926.

Five months later, while he faced formal trial, Carlton was shot down on the main street by a rifle ball fired from a passing automobile. Henry Martin surrendered almost immediately, was tried, convicted and sentenced to 25 years in prison.

"The girl that makes Desserts and cakes With Alpine—thats my baby!"

"Just give a look That girls some cook And say—I dont mean maybe!"

Good—
there's cream in every drop

WHAT is dinner without dessert? What a disappointment for the little folks—the grown-ups, too—if you leave out this happy ending to the meal!

Let them have desserts that are wholesome as well as delicious—puddings, custards and other dainties that call for plenty of milk. And use Alpine in your recipes—for richer flavor, for smoother, creamier consistency.

You'll like Alpine in coffee, too, for it has cream in every drop. In every pint of Alpine there is a whole quart of pure, rich, full-cream milk—with nothing added, nothing taken away but water.

Yet for all this extra creamy richness Alpine costs less than ordinary milk. No danger of its spoiling, either. Sterilized in its air-tight container, it keeps indefinitely and is always pure and sweet when you open the can.

Get Alpine today.

Baked Custard with Alpine

1 cup Alpine Milk, 1 cup water, 2 eggs, pinch of salt, 3 tbsp. sugar, grated nutmeg or vanilla to taste. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar, mix with Alpine Milk and water. Pour into buttered mold or custard cups. Stand in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven till set. Coconut may be added, if desired.

Interesting News Of The Day Told In Pictures

A big day for Lizzie, queen of the elephant herd at the Philadelphia zoo, was the 30th anniversary of her enforced sojourn there. While her cage mates looked on enviously, she trunked away a sumptuous vegetable cake, garnished with sweet hay, and then had herself a dip in the pool, as pictured here.

Now that flying has become a popular afternoon diversion, Lois Moran, of the Hollywood colony, displays what the well-dressed flying woman should wear. The coat is imitation snake skin with black satin trim. Breeches of whipcord fit into black riding boots. The helmet is satin.

Superstition to the contrary, a man might risk taking a walk under this ladder, taking a chance that one of the girls would fall for him. No, the girls are not firemen out for an afternoon of exercise, but just one of the "designs" of artists' models thought up by the Painters' and Sculptors' association, of Southern California, for their annual frolic at El Patio, in Los Angeles. Top to bottom, the ladies are Doris Hamilton, Josephine Bernhardt, Marie Willard, Anne Carter, Eileen Stewart and Claire Parry.

Miss Dorothy Jane Koch, Santa Rosa, Calif., girl, with the dahlia grown by her father, George A. Koch, which has been named "Miss Mildred Doran," in honor of the flying school teacher lost on the Dole flight. Bulbs of the new dahlia will be sent to the Doran family. The new bloom grows to 12 inches in diameter, and is meadow pink in color, shading into orchid and blue.

Helen Henderson, former Follies beauty, found all men boring, except one—Aaron Benesch, a retired New York banker. So she married him! He's 60 and she, 23. They've gone to Honolulu on their honeymoon.

Hollywood has many marriages, but this Louisiana woman has them backed off the board. The other day she took her tenth husband. Her name? Well, it is Mrs. Carolyn McDonald-Walters-Bronson-L. Burgess-Chavallier-Garden-White-Luigi-Hatfield-Willis. Her home is at Uralia, La.

This is the crash of the plane piloted by Holbrook Goodale, former navy officer, at Honolulu. With four lives being lost, including Goodale; E. S. Brooke, aerial and movie photographer; Jeanette Starr, 13, and Henry Hanberg. Goodale had organized as president and filed articles of incorporation for Hawaiian Air transport just the day before the crash.

When Thanksgiving day comes little LeVera Eads, of Portland, Ore., will hardly know where to go. The baby, shown in the center with her mother, has four great grandmothers. They are (left to right) Mrs. Rebecca Bookout, mother of LeVera's mother's father; Mrs. N. W. Ownbey, mother of LeVera's mother's mother; Mrs. Eliza Eads, mother of the child's father's father, and Mrs. Annie B. Allen, the baby's father's mother's mother.

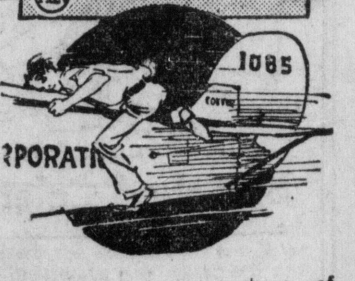

The Rev. Father Richard A. Gleason, prefect of St. Ignace church, San Francisco, celebrates November 6 his golden jubilee as a Jesuit priest. Educated for the priesthood at Santa Clara college, he returned as its president, 1905 to 1910, and then organized Loyola college in Los Angeles, of which he remained head for seven years.

Triple alliance in its latest form appeared at Bellingham, Wn. where three sisters were to wed three brothers. The romance started after the Abbott girls started school at Bellingham State Normal, and Thomas Frank became acquainted with Helen. They are to be married after Thomas gets through college, but the weddings of Lawrence and Bernice, and George and Gladys at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, have just taken place. Upper row, George, Thomas and Lawrence. Lower row, Gladys Helen and Bernice.

Paul Poret, Parisian couturier, photoed when he reached New York on a style pilgrimage to the United States.

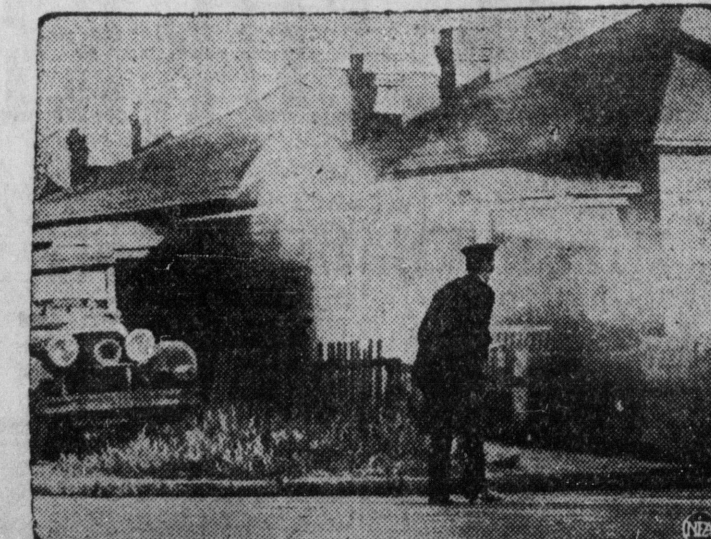

The second hero of Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., is Vincent Taylor, 17, the first aerial hitch-hopper. Next to Clarence Chamberlin he is held highest in the community's popularity by reason of his 35-mile ride to New Brunswick on the tail of a biplane he helped take off. As the machine started, his foot caught in the tailgear so he clung on—and flew to fame.

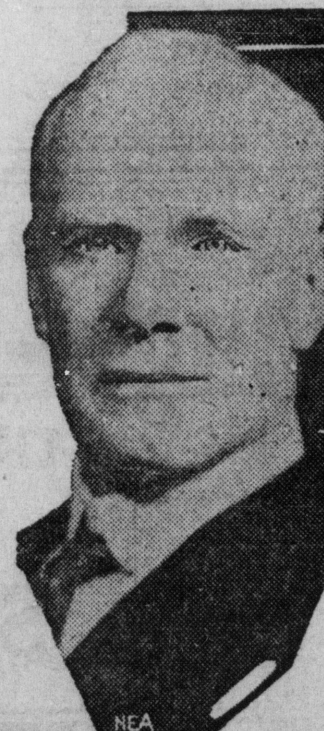

Mrs. Joseph Thayer Gilman, wife of the newly appointed vice consul in Jerusalem, is one of the most beautiful representatives of America in foreign diplomatic circles. She is the former Miss Estelle Bedwell, of Mount Holly, N. J.

Eva (left) and Martha Collins, said to be relatives of the late Michael Collins, prominent Irish politician, are held in Detroit charged with illegally entering the country.

A pitched battle between Charles Pinkston, fugitive negro and the police of Birmingham, Ala. in which 16 persons were wounded terminated in victory for the authorities when tear gas bombs drove Pinkston from his beleaguered home to be riddled to death by bullets. Here you see an officer with drawn gun cautiously advancing upon the house behind a screen of gas fumes.

A hunter feels lucky if he get within gunshot of a wild goose. Jack Miner (above) tames them. The famous Canadian sportsman and conservationist maintains a bird refuge in western Ontario visited annually by countless thousands of wild fowl. Miner fed wild geese three years before they became tame enough to be tagged.

These two South American darters, new-comers at the London show, are here caught in an affectionate pose. Because of their long necks, which they use to advantage in angling in shallow water for fish, the darters are nick-named "snake birds."

GREAT BRITAIN FEARS PRINCE WILL NOT WED

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Evidence that the royal family is facing the possibility that the Prince of Wales may die unmarried was seen here today when, for the first time in history, the honor of a court circular was accorded anyone but the king and his immediate heir.

A simple statement, headed "145 Piccadilly" and detailing the activities of the Duke of York—the king's second son—for the previous day brought to the attention of the whole country the frequently discussed fact that Wales, now 33 years old, shows no disposition whatever to marry and provide himself with an heir.

Now, with Wales childless, the Duke of York is second heir to the throne. His baby daughter, Princess Elizabeth, is third heir.

If the next child of the duke and duchess is a boy, it will take precedence over Princess Elizabeth. A woman in line of succession takes the English throne only when she has no brother.

King's Circular Used
In previous years throughout British history, when it was necessary to record the activities of any younger son of a king, the king's own circular was sufficient. From now on, the Duke of York's activities will be recorded daily in his own circular, issued from his residence in a row of mansions beside Hyde park and facing the green park that separates Piccadilly from the king's palace.

Wales shows no signs of marrying. Just now he is concentrating on fox hunting in his breathing spells among his official engagements. One by one, the girls, royal and otherwise, mentioned as possible or certain brides for him have married off—the last, Princess Astrid, of Sweden, who married the crown prince of Belgium and has just given birth to a daughter.

JACK LOCKWELL

By Patten

"That's nice!" exclaimed Jack. "Every one of them had some mushy stuff written on it!" He straightened up. "And look!" he cried. "My picture's gone too!"

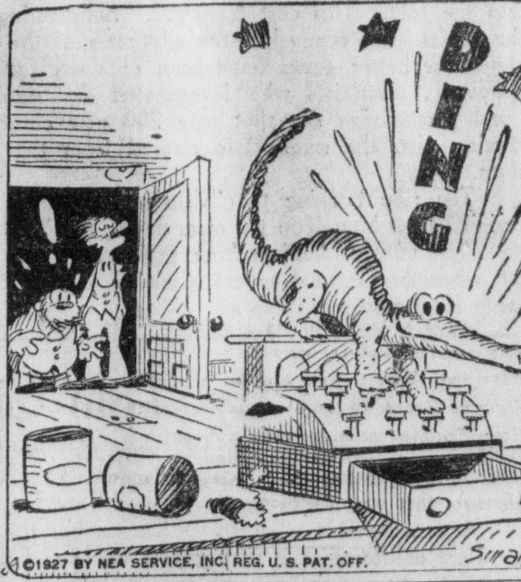

"Why, so it is!" came from Darling, as he gazed at the blank wall above the mantel. "Wonder what else is gone?" But nothing more was missing from the room.

"Now what do you suppose the big idea was?" said Jack. "Oh, I guess some Smart Alec is going to put them on exhibition," surmised Willie. "Hark! The songbirds are warbling!" From beneath their open window rose a chorus of boyish voices, singing to the old-fashioned air of "Darling Sue! Darling Sue! Darling Sue! Your fat face soon I'll see, I know!" (To Be Continued)

EVENING SALUTATION

All nature is but art, unknown to thee;
All chance, direction, which thou canst not see;
All discord, harmony not understood;
All partial evil, universal good:
And spite of pride, in erring reason's spite,
One truth is clear, whatever is, is right.

A UNITING INDUSTRIAL EUROPE

Following close upon the formation of a European Steel Trust comes the announcement of the formation of a European Chemical Trust. Europe may still have its political differences, but it is aiming at industrial unification. The European Steel Trust, composed of the steel industries of France and Germany and Belgium, was organized not only for the purpose of eliminating ruinous competition among themselves, but much more so to compete with the United States Steel Trust. The same is true with the Chemical Trust. The great war shifted the chemical supremacy of Europe to the United States. The object of the Chemical Trust of Europe is to get it back.

Europe is beginning to feel that it must get together industrially if it is to survive. America with her great home market and Britain with her dominions have opportunities for mass production which the individual states of Europe do not have. The only way to approximate these advantages is by throwing down tariff walls and making trade agreements among themselves. That is just what is being done in Europe. The cutting off from imports into the United States of French wines, and the high tariff on luxuries which France has so largely supplied to the United States in years past, has affected French industry. France is trying to get back by raising the tariff on American goods and lowering the tariff on German goods. Trade agreements are being made between the various European countries. The vast natural resources of Russia are being sought by Germany.

It is not a matter of surprise that our industrial leaders are becoming somewhat anxious about the whole situation, and that our state department is having a diplomatic correspondence concerning the situation. Yet Europe can hardly be blamed. If the United States can build high tariff walls, we can hardly blame Europe for building high tariff walls against us. If the matter is serious for us, it is much more serious for Europe. Our tremendous prosperity might lessen somewhat without destroying our comforts and our luxuries. But for Europe it is a matter of necessary living.

Naturally, each country wants to get the most for itself, and with the possibilities of international war each country wants to be self-sufficient, so that if war does come there will be no danger of being starved out or without the instrumentalities to wage war. In the last war, England realized how necessary it was to keep the seas under her control if she were to save her life. Our vast and varied resources make us much more self-sufficient. With the danger of international war removed, each country might engage in those industries for which it was best equipped. We might duplicate on a world scale what we have done here in the United States, in which we have absolute freedom between the forty-eight states, and that to the great advantage of all of them.

THE OHIO SCHOOLMASTER

Senator Fess, the Ohio schoolmaster, has been going about the country telling his audiences that the president must not be taken too seriously in his choosing not to run, that the country needs Calvin Coolidge, and that he is willing to be drafted. The whole thing has evidently been an embarrassment to the President. Senator Fess has been a thick and thin supporter of everything that has come out of the White House, and the inference has been drawn that in doing what he has done he was acting as an official spokesman for the President.

Now we are told by the Ohio schoolmaster that he has been roundly scolded by the President for proclaiming the country's need for him; but like the typical schoolmaster he continues to announce to the country that the man in the White House must not be taken too seriously, even in the face of the round scolding administered to the officious schoolmaster. Schoolmasters know what is good for pupils, even though the pupil be as mighty a man as the President of the United States.

There are some people in the state of Ohio who suspect that Senator Fess is in part interested in Calvin Coolidge and in part in himself. They are mean enough to say that the Senator has to keep himself in the limelight somehow, and that the means he has been employing is the way he has been doing it. The Ohio schoolmaster recently lectured a group of ministers in Denver on what they ought to do and what they ought not to do in politics, and they turned about as Calvin Coolidge did and scolded him very roundly. They told the schoolmaster that they had grown up, and knew their own minds, which was pretty much what Calvin Coolidge did. Schoolmasters are all right for children, but there comes a time when the schoolmaster is no longer necessary. We have an idea that Calvin Coolidge can do without the schoolmaster, but the Ohio schoolmaster continues to think he may be the mentor of the President of the United States. All of which is to say that a man should cease being a schoolmaster when he puts on the senatorial toga.

CHIEF JUSTICE POINTS OUT LOOP-HOLE

A few days since we took occasion to call attention to the failure of our criminal law to adequately protect society from the criminal horde. We cannot help noting with satisfaction the fact that the leading jurist of our country, former president and now chief justice, William Howard Taft of the United States supreme court emphasized this very matter in an address before the national crime commission.

He took up the various loopholes of the law which protect the criminal instead of the state, and dwelt at large upon some of them, but the public should bear in mind that the lawyers of the country will not make these changes of themselves. They frankly admit them, they are pointing them out, but the changes must come through the activity of the mass of people themselves. The laymen are the ones, as a matter of fact, whose demands have brought about reform. This is true of simplifying our legal procedure as in other things. The terrible exigencies of the country is sufficient reason why citizens should work out this plan.

WHAT IF SINCLAIR AND FALL WERE TRAMPS?

All men are equal before the courts in theory but undoubtedly the man with the big check book can get more attention. Short shirt would have been made of a poor devil found tampering with the jury when being prosecuted by the United States government. In the present case while it has been sufficient to result in the mistrial order to the court yet it appears that they are still wondering if it is so.

Against Book L'arrin

You would hardly expect a professional educator to condemn books as a means of education. Yet that very thing is done by Dr. Charles W. Hunt, head of a well known American school for the education of educators.

"Books," he complains, "are crammed with second hand experience. They are the records of what somebody else saw, felt, or said. We have clung to them year after year largely out of sheer laziness. It is so much easier to teach when all you have to do is compel the children to read something in a book and then repeat it to you."

"But life all around us is crammed with educational materials. Within a few years, I predict, children will go out in excursions into shops, factories and on the streets to learn at first hand."

Maybe they will, more or less. But it is certainly going to add to the traffic problem and worry a lot of mothers if all the children in the public schools are to be poured onto the street and towed around town by their teachers, to learn everything by direct observation.

The old Peripatetic school in Greece used to use that method. The instructor talked to his pupils while they trailed after him in the open air. That doubtless helped to keep them awake. But the teacher kept them pretty well outside of the congested districts; and anyway, learning was less complicated in those days.

Now there are million things for children to learn. How can they learn them all at first hand? A long lifetime would be far too short for the education of the child who tried to learn everything for himself, or for the teacher who tried to show him everything and explain it on the spot.

Books are inadequate, but they are short-cuts to knowledge. The bright child, through them, may multiply his knowledge infinitely, packing into a few years the condensed experience of many ages and millions of lives.

It suffices to take the child out to face the real thing occasionally, giving him something solid to stand on. Then books will open up to him.

One American In Five Is In School

Pasadena Star-News

There may be considerable ignorance in this country. But there also is much intelligence. It is estimated by the Federal Bureau of Education that more than 27,000,000 students are enrolled in educational institutions for the ensuing school year. This denotes that one in five of the Nation's population is in a school of some description.

A vast majority of those enrolled as students are found in elementary and public schools—some 21,000,000 of them. Enrollment in public schools is placed at about 4,000,000. Privately conducted elementary schools have 2,000,000 students, and private high schools and preparatory schools, 250,000.

Nor is higher education neglected. In colleges and universities of the United States are approximately 1,000,000 students. About 300,000 are enrolled in schools for the training of teachers.

Thus is conducted the widespread system of education by which fully one-fifth of the entire population of the Nation is receiving training in schools. Admittedly, educational methods in this country are not perfect. This true as to public schools. It is true as to private schools. And it is true as to institutions of higher learning.

It is a hopeful sign, however, that those who are responsible for conducting the educational work of the country are ready to admit defects and are striving zealously to bring about betterments. A great stride toward improvement in any system or activity has been taken when deficiencies are acknowledged, and when conscientious effort is made to correct flaws.

SOME INDUSTRIAL MISHAPS JUST CAN'T BE HELPED

The National Safety Council holds annual meetings at which authorities from all over the United States present methods of preventing accidents in industrial plants and indeed everywhere that human beings may be.

In spite of all precautions some accidents cannot be prevented. The kind of thing known as an act of Providence will occur due to circumstances over which man has no control. But many accidents are due to bad judgment, lack of information on the part of some worker, illness or fatigue, carelessness, or lack of suitable apparatus.

Last Two Hours

Before such diseases as influenza, typical of infections of the breathing apparatus, the person falls into a sort of lethargy, indifferent state. At such a time he is more likely than usual to have accidents. When a worker becomes unduly fatigued his mind is not as alert as earlier in the day. The last two hours of the working day have more accidents than all the preceding periods.

Every employer of considerable numbers of persons knows that there are some people unusually likely to have accidents. These "hoodooed" workers are constantly falling, getting their fingers caught, getting hit by flying objects, or in some other way succumbing to injury.

Research committees and boards have given weeks of study to this problem but have ended by asking the neurologists and psychiatrists to find out what it is in the temperament of this type of worker that makes him a victim of such frequent mishaps.

Day-Dreams

Undoubtedly day-dreaming, abstract thoughts, worry, anxiety and similar emotional states have something to do with the matter. These states break into the routine of habit. When such a man is placed on new work the necessity for learning interferes with his day-dreaming and he is likely to go along without accident until practice has made the new work habitual.

Then the reverie, anxiety or worry breaks into the habitual action and an accident occurs again. A mental investigation to free the man of his mental difficulty will relieve the situation. If he is, however, of the day-dreaming or worrying type he is likely to find soon again some subject for his mental abstractions.

AUTUMN, THE ARTIST

Autumn has a magic brush.
In her last few hours
She can give a lovely flush
To the garden flowers.

Lavish with her paints is she
And she spreads them deep.
Nothing in her work we see
Commonplace or cheap.

As an artist she bestows
Vivid hues and true
To the humblest plant that grows
Just for man to view.

Only man adulterates
Paints and calls them fair.
Autumn, as an artist, rates
Excellent, everywhere.

Personal Evangelism

It is an age of facts rather than poetry, machines rather than men. Now a movement within the churches promises to do away with the old picturesque evangelist.

The new methodist is known as "visitation" evangelism, a process of winning souls to the sawdust trail much after the manner of the insurance salesman getting his man. Instead of appealing to the crowd, with an emotional display, the idea is to go quietly to the individual's home and show him the facts.

Within the Federal Council of Churches influential church leaders are at work bringing about the "visitation" method. They claim that the old way was more expensive and did not begin to produce adequate results.

Billy Sunday went to New York in 1917 and brought 65,000 into the fold. This cost $350,000. Substituting the layman for the professional evangelist, the advocates of the new plan say, a result far better could have been obtained for far less the expenditure. Officials who investigated the results of the 1917 Sunday campaign say that only 200 new church members kept coming after the smoke had cleared from the evangelistic platform.

The men backing the "visitation" method say that the individual loses himself in the mass during the "hell-fire" evangelistic meetings, whereas he is calmer and can reason better with himself when the personal appeal is made. One of the ideas is to get away from mob movement.

CURRENT COMMENT

By CHESTER H. ROWELL

"NOT only have we enjoyed material success, but we have advanced in wisdom and in spiritual understanding," says a President Coolidge in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation.

If so, then indeed we should give thanks. For our material prosperity, let us invoke the boon of humility. It is not because we are, better or more diligent than other peoples, but because we are more fortunate. As soils and seasons vary, so do countries and generations. We have the luck to be born in the richest country, in its richest generation. For that, let us be humble!

But if we have also "advanced in wisdom, and in spiritual understanding," then we have attained to the only thing which makes material prosperity a blessing. For, as tyranny, so does prosperity without wisdom make for gluttony of the spirit. May our super-abundant food be for strength, and not for fatty degeneration!

THE colleges have changed their tune. A few years ago, competing for students, they encouraged propaganda in secondary schools and by alumni associations for the "go to college" movement. Now, swamped with students and with ever-increasing numbers clamoring for entrance, they have started a crusade to discourage the unqualified and the indifferent from coming. Quite correctly, they point out that the majority of our young people could get actually more education, to say nothing of saving and making much more money, from four years of work or business than from four years of college. So they strongly recommend this choice to those uncalled by nature for the higher learning.

IT WILL do no good. To be sure, no one denies the correctness of the advice. But it is always for the other fellow. Students come to college, not collectively, but individually. Each one makes the choice, or has it made for him, by himself. Therefore each one faces the problem whether he shall be numbered with the ordinary many or with the exceptional few. Naturally, "the many" are always the others. If college is a special privilege, that is all the more reason why "I," or "my son" should go to it.

IT IS all a part of one of the most peculiar features of our inheritance of what we have supposed was democracy. We have gloried little in the dignity of the common occupations of common men, which is democracy, and have boasted rather of our "equal opportunity" to rise from the common walks, which is only another form of aristocracy. Not the worthiness of labor, but the "equal" chance to get out of labor, has been our pride—the assumption being that the traditional callings of the aristocracy are also the goal of democracy. And we have seen nothing undemocratic in the fact that, necessarily, only the exceptional person could be advantaged by this opportunity. It was "equal" only to the unequal.

AND there is the further fact that our girls, at precisely the college age, are a leisure class. It is the normal "swarming age," between childhood and marriage. The girl who can afford it goes to college; the other seeks a job in some occupation which she hopes will be permanent, and in which she therefore does not aspire to promotion. Her chief responsibility either way, is to grow up, pending the usual next step. So long as the country is prosperous, who is going to keep the girls out? And, if education is not to be the monopoly of women, we must therefore not discourage the coming of boys, also.

THE real problem, then, is not how to keep them out, but what to do with them. They are going to college, anyway, and if the existing institutions do not take them they will force the development of the others. Necessarily, most of them will not be exceptional persons. They will want to "go to" college, but few of them have any insatiable hunger for learning, or any unusual capacity for acquiring it. A few, on the other hand, will be precisely the per-

LITTLE JOE

ONE AFFAIR OF THE PAST ARE OFTEN WHAT CAUSE A FELLOW TO BUY A PRESENT IN THE FUTURE

All the grown-ups go around:
They have good feet that obey,
But no matter how I try
My two feet won't work that way!

All the little puddles call,
"Step in us with your galoshes."
And each puddle helps to make
Just the el-estest splashes!

Once a puddle cried, "Hello,
Don't you ever try some hopping?"
So I gave a skip'n hop
And it splashed me simply soppy!

Mother says, "Why do you listen
If they always beg and tease?"
But my feet politely do it
When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"

When the puddles whisper, "Please!"
